SCHOOL PANEL WILL APPROVE SALARIES

Activities Committee Chairman to Give Report

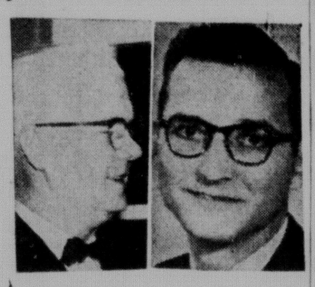

POTTSTOWN BOARD MEETS TONIGHT

The Pottstown School board tonight will approve next term's salaries for all district employes, as controlled by a standing schedule.

But the bone of contention, the supplemental contracts for the athletic staff, will not be settled until a special meeting to approve the 1960-1961 budget next Monday.

The board's activities committee is expected to recommend a total of $445 in increases out of $2295 asked by the entire athletic staff of 16 teachers.

Carl M. Hofheinz, committee chairman, will report on his panel's findings tonight, and some action "may be taken," according to Superintendent Havard E. Fosnocht.

Havard Fosnocht — Carl Hofheinz

A spokesman for the coaches said that group will take no further steps to gain their requests until the board in full has committed itself to a stand on the committee's proposal.

* * *

THE ACTION awaits the outcome of Hofheinz' report tonight and any immediate action the board may go into.

The entire $2,629,200 budget has been tentatively approved, and could become an item of discussion tonight, although its actual final approval will not come until next Monday at the special meeting for that purpose.

The school board has received bids on maintenance and janitorial supplies for the coming year, and will approve the purchase of those items.

Several change orders on the construction and furnishing of the new Pottstown High school will be requested by the general contractor.

Four new teachers will be elected from a list of applicants, and any resignations forwarded to Fosnocht will be discussed for acceptance.

Unused Roads Ordered Vacated

Amityville township supervisors Saturday passed an ordinance vacating nine different roads not in use. These will be eliminated from the township map and will revert to the original owner, becoming private roads.

A special hearing will be June 23 at the township building to change the zoning classification for a portion of William Schmale's farm located seven miles west of Pottstown on Route 422.

Russell High, secretary, said a portion of the farm will be changed from farming class to family residence class one because Schmale has sold several lots on the road from Route 422 to Amityville. Any objections will be heard that day, High said.

Bills of some $4200 were paid including the one for the new police car. The meeting took place in the township building and was in charge of Irwin L. Geiger, chairman.

Slated for Police Posts

These two men could be the newest members of the Pottstown police force. They were selected by the police committee and will be recommended next Monday to borough council. At left is Walter Kramer, Route 422, Sanatoga. At right is Woodrow L. Eddinger, Bechtelsville RD 1.

Both are ex-servicemen with experience in the military police. Kramer, 23, is single and although a native of the area, was away most of his life since his father is a career serviceman. Eddinger, 21, will marry Natalie June Neimy, Pennsburg, June 18. If he is accepted for one of the two police openings, Eddinger will move closer to Pottstown.

Pounding Thunderstorm Precedes Bright Sunday

The weekend weather took its liberties with the Pottstown area, bringing cloudiness, a sudden and fierce thundershower, fog and a gorgeous Sabbath.

The storm, striking at 1 p. m. Saturday, flooded streets momentarily, ravaged flowers and bushes, drove strollers to cover and slowed traffic.

But the 6/10 of an inch of rain, driven by stiff gusts of wind, failed to exact any serious damage. Although both Pottstown and Boyertown wondered at the ferocity of the storm, no reports were made of damages to property.

Thundershowers were expected about dawn Saturday, but it was just plain grey and murky until the storm finally hit with all its fury, as if it had been holding back.

* * *

BY 4 P. M. it had cleared, and the day ended with sunshine, and humidity dropping swiftly. Temperatures were stable during the day—it was between 70 and 72 from 3 a. m. until 9 p. m., when the mercury began to drop off toward the low of 62 at 4 a. m. Sunday.

The cooling Saturday night brought fog to the area, and wide areas of countryside appeared to be steaming, the cloudy cover came so swiftly.

Sunday morning dawned brilliant and remained pleasant and fair, with a high of 80 by evening. Pottstonians fled to swimming pools for relaxation, and others sought a beginning of a suntan.

It began to grow cloudier late Sunday, and a haze hung across the moon, signaling the possibility of a few showers this morning.

* * *

IT WILL remain cloudy today, with a chance of more showers this afternoon. These storms precede a cold front which will then enter the area.

Partial clearing and cooler, drier air will arrive a few hours after the front's passage, and it will be mostly fair tomorrow.

The low this morning is seen in the 60s, with a high today of 75 to 80, and not quite that warm tomorrow.

July Continues Top Choice of Heat Guessers

Weekend guessers in the high temperature contest favored July two to one over August as the hottest month this Summer.

Four persons voted for July and two for August. One of them may be the lucky winner and receive $130 in prizes from 12 Pottstown businesses.

Contestants have but one chance to guess the highest temperature and the date and time it will be registered during June, July or August.

Entrants must fill out the entry blank on page 14 of today's Mercury, then mail it to the Weather editor of The Mercury or deliver it to The Mercury office.

Submitting guesses over the weekend were: Ruth E. Carl, Parker Ford, July 24, at 3:15 p. m.; Ralph M. Groff, Pottstown RD 3, Aug. 14, at 3:11 p. m.; William H. Shirey, Boyertown, Aug. 17, at 11:35 a. m.; Margie Weller, Boyertown, July 27, at 3:50 p. m.; Evelyn A. Bechtel, Graterford, July 21, at 7:20 p. m., and John F. Fasone, Parker Ford, July 20, at 3:12 p. m.

Death Stretch Patrols Stop Automobile Carnage

"Two are killed in head-on crash near Spring City."

The tragedy that created that headline occurred just one month ago today. The following day a third victim of the same crash died.

The accident on Route 83 happened just 16 days before a similar crash that claimed three more lives on the same stretch of highway.

Since the second tragic accident, State police at the Thorndale barracks have doubled the number of patrols assigned to cover Route 83 between Pottstown and Spring City.

* * *

THE RESULT of the troopers' vigilance has been gratifying.

Sunday night Sgt. Borlick Tarlecki in charge of the Thorndale barracks, said "the campaign has been very successful. We have had no serious accidents on that particular part of Route 83 since the patrols were doubled May 23."

Sgt. Tarlecki termed The Mercury's series of articles concerning the section of Route 83 known as "Deadman's Run" "very helpful" in the effort to make that highway safer.

He also noted that State police have made more than 40

Area Man Injured As Motorcycle Skids

An area man was injured Sunday at 5:45 p. m. when his motorcycle skidded on cinders as he rounded a curve in Earl township five miles west of Boyertown and threw him to the highway.

Hill was taken to Pottstown hospital in the Boyertown ambulance. His condition Sunday night was satisfactory.

State police at the Reading barracks investigated.

TELEFLEX NEGOTIATORS OFFER PACT

Unionists Will Vote On Ratification Today

36-DAY STRIKE MAY BE ENDED

Workmen at Teleflex incorporated, Boyertown, could signal the end to a 36-day walkout.

A ratification vote on a new contract will be taken in Friendship firehall, Boyertown. Terms of the new pact were reached after a "sweat it out session" Saturday.

Bargainers met 15 hours in the Berkshire hotel, Reading. Carl Herbine, president of Amalgamated Local 644, United Auto Workers union, declared, "We had seven meetings prior to Saturday and none of them brought results.

"Negotiators during the weekend were determined to end the deadlock, so they sweated out discussions from mid morning to midnight," said Herbine.

THE NEW pact will extend three years, replacing a one year agreement that ended April 30. The new terms, if ratified, would be effective today.

Unionists would accrue three annual wage hikes and a boost in their insurance. Items such

Baccalaureate Sermon Given By Rev. Horn

"Have a goal and keep moving toward that goal all during your life," the Rev. Edward S. Horn, pastor of St. James Lutheran church, told members of the Pottstown High school graduating class Sunday night.

Rev. Horn

The event was the Baccalaureate that drew close to 1000 pupils, relatives and friends at the school auditorium.

The Rev. Horn emphasized during his sermon titled, "What Have We Got?", the point of taking what the pupil has and making the most of it.

He said that pupils have wisdom, culture, perspective, freedom, the sense of interdependence or the need of helping their fellow man, a mighty faith and human dignity.

Marching to "Pomp and Circumstance," the pupils, girls dressed in white gowns and boys in dark blue, almost filled the center of the auditorium. Only a few seats were left vacant in the balcony.

Giving the invocation was the Rev. Edgar T. Chrisemer, pastor of Transfiguration Lutheran church. The Rev. L. Samuel Krouse, associate pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church, gave the scripture lesson and led the prayer.

Family Service Will Install Committees

The monthly board meeting of the Family Service of Pottstown will be tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the agency headquarters, 635 High street.

John R. Orr, president, will be in charge of the meeting and will install committees for the coming year. Mrs. Robert C. Shultz, case aide, will explain the Community Camp program and Family Service's place in it.

The committees are: personnel and policy: Mrs. Arthur Jackson, chairman; Mrs. Harold B. Federman, and Mary L. Schaeffer; public relations: Mrs. William G. Lawrence, chairman; Miss Schaeffer and William R. Shutt.

Nominating: Mrs. Herbert R. Maack, chairman, and Horace Y. Seidel; building: Wayne J. Knause, chairman, and Richard C. Haury; finance: Matthew S. Santangelo, chairman; William Dennis and Robert Y. Kurtz.

Executive: Mrs. Jackson, chairman; Mrs. Lawrence Santangelo, Mrs. Federman, Whitney R. Kerchner and John R. Orr.

Board Member Says Keim Knew of Sewer Site Plans When He Purchased Land

Raymond D. Kohler, North Coventry supervisor, said Sunday that fellow supervisor J. Russell Keim purchased land along the Schuylkill river with the full knowledge that engineering plans showed the township's proposed sewage treatment plant would be built there.

RAYMOND D. KOHLER

Kohler, a Demcrat and minority member of the board which is filled out by Republican George Neiffer, prepared an extensive statement in an effort to answer questions for North Coventry residents which he feels have not been clarified.

The North Coventry Sewer authority conducted a special "question and answer" meeting Wednesday, which attracted 65 taxpayers. Kohler feels there are more questions . . . and more answers.

At that meeting it was suggested the sewer plant would be built on land owned by Keim if preliminary plans were followed.

* * *

KEIM LATER admitted he realized his property was discussed for the sewer plant, but added he wasn't particularly interested in having "a sewer plant on my property."

He said, however, if the land was needed, he would be willing to sell.

Kohler described this setup in his statement:

"Concerning the matter of purchasing land from a supervisor on which to build a treatment plant, I would say this (as I have told the supervisor involved).

J. RUSSELL KEIM

"The land in question was purchased from him with full knowledge that the engineering plans showed it as the proposed location of the treat-

POTTSTOWN TEACHER DIES IN HOSPITAL

Ruth Swinehart Was Ill for 3 Weeks

Ruth (Filman) Swinehart, widow of Jasper L. Swinehart, 127 King street, died early Saturday morning at Reading hospital where she had been a patient for the past two weeks.

She was born in Pottstown, a daughter of Harold C. and the late Elizabeth (Milligan) Filman. A graduate of West Chester State college, she was a teacher in the Pottstown Elementary schools for the past 35 years.

Prior to becoming ill three weeks ago, she taught at Franklin school. She was a member of Emmanuel Lutheran church, Hanover and Walnut streets, and a member of the board of directors of the YWCA.

She taught at the Franklin school since it was built in 1951. She also taught at the Ruppert, Lincoln and Jefferson schools, and was head teacher (principal) at the old Washington school in the early 1940s.

* * *

SHE IS survived by one brother, Lewis C. Filman, of Chester, and her father.

Funeral services will be tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the Schumacher and Reber Funeral home, 359 King street, with the Rev. L. Samuel Krouse, associate pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church, officiating. Interment will be in Highland Memorial park.

Admitted to Hospital

Young Democratic councilman Bernard S. Verbit, 69 South Evans street, was admitted to Memorial hospital over the weekend.

Verbit, a Fourth warder, will undergo a complete physical checkup.

175 Pay Last Respects To Rev. Arthur Simpson

"Pastor Simpson would have been the last one to have his friends grieve for him. He looked upon death as a victory."

Those words were spoken Saturday morning during funeral services for the Rev. Arthur H. Simpson, 91 year old pastor emeritus of the First United Presbyterian church. The speaker was the church's current pastor, the Rev. William A. Guenther.

One hundred seventy-five persons attended the simple but impressive services in the church. Most of those present were members of the congregation—but many non-members were also there to pay respect to one of Pottstown's most beloved leaders.

"He was a friend and counselor of all who sought him out," the Rev. Guenther said. "Under him the church prospered."

* * *

THE REV. Simpson, husband of Elsie (Mowrey) Simpson, died Thursday morning at his Park court home.

The Rev. Guenther offered a brief eulogy and the general prayer.

The Rev. Dr. John B. Frantz, pastor of Trinity Reformed United Church of Christ, offered the opening prayer and read from the Book of Psalms.

County Firemen Vote Against Home Alarms

The Montgomery county Firemen's association went on record Saturday as being against home fire alarms until the price gets down to where the average family can afford to buy one.

Norman Geissler, secretary, said the association was actually in favor of home alarms but are against the high price and the "high pressure" methods of salesmen.

George Hink, chief of the Philadelphia Fire department, Philadelphia, came out for the device, during the convention, June 3-4 at Ocean City, N.J. of the Eastern Association of Fire chiefs, Geissler said.

Geissler said that also during the convention Donald Tarbutton, a member of the county

250 ATTEND AUCTION OF BLOCK ITEMS

Jewelry, Antiques Bring Large Prices

"Going once, going twice, sold," an auctioneer chanted 500 times Saturday as the last of the estate of the late Rebekah Block was sold.

Diamond rings, oriental rugs, sterling silver, crystal and various pieces of antique furniture were sold during the almost eight hour auction in charge of the Pottstown Auction company.

One sterling silver soup ladle brought $31, said Kenneth A. Geyer, auctioneer. "There was a tremendous amount of auction and the people were bidding more freely than in any sale I've seen in a long time," he said.

Mrs. Block was the widow of Jacob Block, formerly associated with the B. E. Block and

Dental Clinic for Green Lane Is Goal of State Supervisor

Dr. Frank Blauhut, Zieglerville, is in charge of dental care for 30,000 youngsters. But his main worries are headaches, not toothaches.

Dr. Blauhut is a supervisor for the State's department of public health. Just recently, he received a master's degree from a Federal scholarship to Columbia university.

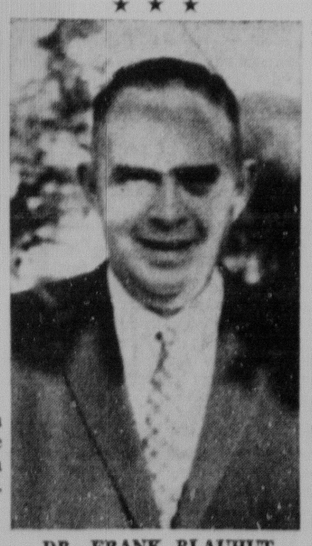

Although he supervises dental care in 32 schools in four counties, Dr. Blauhut can't get a dental agency set up around Green Lane. That's what, he said, brings him headaches.

"I doubt if school children around Green Lane get adequate dental care. And I can't do a thing about it," complained Dr. Blauhut.

* * *

HE TRIED to establish a dental clinic there last year, but was "given the cold shoulder by the school board." Dr. Blauhut said top educational supervisors in the area approved his plan and a part time dentist was obtained.

* * *

DR. FRANK BLAUHUT

"But the school board insisted it was better to take their kids to Allentown for treatment, than to have a dentist, paid by the State, come to them once a week.

"That is foolish reasoning, and I'm still determined to get a clinic around Green Lane, where one is needed," said Dr. Blauhut.

He estimated that if a dentist visited once a week, and treated six children each time, the entire enrolment could be examined in a school year.

Examinations are made in Grades one, three and seven. Children who cannot afford dental remedies get them free. Dr. Blauhut said 4000 children get free fillings and extractions each year in Montgomery, Chester, Delaware and Bucks counties.

URW PLANS JULY WAGE NEGOTIATIONS

Firestone Gets Notice From Union

TALKS MUST START WITHIN 30 DAYS

Wage negotiations at Firestone Tire and Rubber company most likely will start by early July.

Local 336, United Rubber Workers, notified plant management that the wage-reopening clause in a two year contract should be discussed.

The notice was given June 2 and a first meeting must be within 30 days.

Similar notices were sent to Firestone managers in Akron, Ohio; DesMoines, Iowa; Memphis, Tenn., Los Angeles, Calif; Nobelsville and New Castle, Ind., and Fall River, Mass.

The Pottstown union has about 2000 of 18,000 workers in the Firestone chain.

* * *

REPRESENTING POTTSTOWN workers will be Robert E. Garber, head of local 336, and William Rhoads, policy committeeman. The exact time and place of their talks will be settled later.

But 30 days after wage talks open, the union has the right to strike if no agreement is reached. Charles Renninger, vice president, will take charge of local union affairs during negotiations.

Hill School Graduates 119 During Ceremony

Two Collegeville pupils at The Hill school received two of the school's highest awards during the 109th annual Commencement Sunday.

Edward H. Platte Jr., received the Latin Five award and I. Norman Pearlstine, the Colgate Debating award for the most effective debator at the school.

E. T. Hall

The 119 Seniors and over 700 friends and relatives heard commencement speaker Robert Cutler, U.S. executive director, Inter-American Development bank, Washington, D.C., say that their future will be so exciting "you will come to think of Mr. Hall (E. T. Hall, headmaster) and your years at The Hill school as just a dream."

Cutler then gave four main points that he challenged the seniors to keep in mind.

1. Have confidence in America and the opportunity that you are going to have in your future.

2. Hard work. Do not be afraid to work harder than you might get paid for. "Brains and physical attractiveness are nice, but nothing takes the place of long dedicated hard work. Hard work makes for a hard head, not a swell head."

3. Humility. We have been flying for little over 40 years and the birds, bees and butterflies have been doing it for thousands of years.

4. Give the highest service. A soldier during World War II was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. When General Patton asked him why he did what he did, the soldier answered, "someone had to."

But the visiting royalty didn't let lack of sleep bother them at the ball. They were among the last to leave. Movieland royalty turned out in force.

The princesses, all young and unmarried, seemed enthralled with the entertainment program. Lamas was the master of ceremonies. The Argentine actor explained he was chosen for the chore because his wife, actress Arlene Dahl, is of Norwegian descent.

Margaretha of Sweden, who once had a widely publicized romance with a British jazz pianist, seemed to enjoy Dinah's belting of some hot jazz songs.

Mrs. Vanderbilt Asks Daughter To Wait Awhile

BITBURG, Germany (AP)—Patricia Murphy Wallace Vanderbilt said Sunday she has asked her 19-year-old daughter, and the American soldier with whom she ran away, to "wait awhile" before getting married.

"They told me they would like to get married but I advised them to wait awhile," the divorced fifth wife of millionaire Cornelius Vanderbilt said in a telephone interview. She refused to say whether she was for or against a marriage of her daughter, Nanette Wallace, to Specialist 5.C. Wiley Lockamy, 23, of Clinton, N.C.

"I have made absolutely no decision," she said.

* * *

Nanette disappeared May 28 from the French Riviera resort of Cannes, where she was vacationing with her mother. Mrs. Vanderbilt asked French police to find her. Last Thursday, Nanette turned up at the Bitburg home of Army Sgt. and Mrs. Warren E. Sullivan and the following day she and Lockamy announced they planned to marry.

The pretty, petite heiress met Lockamy, a broad-shouldered, handsome antiaircraft missile repairman, on the Riviera. Sgt. Sullivan is Lockamy's superior in the small ordinance detachment stationed at Bitburg air base.

* * *

Mrs. Vanderbilt, who was contacted at the Sullivan home where she is staying, was asked whether her relationship with her daughter and Lockamy was pleasant at this time.

"It is as pleasant as it can be under the circumstances," she answered tersely. "We are all attempting to remain calm."

She refused to say anything about Lockamy's background or whether she liked him. "I can't speak for the boy," she said. Lockamy also has refused to answer reporters' questions about himself.

AGAINST GRAIN

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—It went against the grain with a policeman when he saw a woman driver backing her car against traffic on a one-way street—to avoid driving around the block to enter a driveway.

Judge Vernon D. Hitchings Jr., imposing a fine, explained that the one-way arrows were to show the flow of traffic, not the direction in which cars were to be headed.

Sammy Davis Jr. Is Enthusiastic About Actress

LONDON (AP)—Sammy Davis Jr. ducked out of sight Sunday while show business guessed he would announce his engagement to blonde Swedish actress Mai Britt this week.

Miss Britt flew here from New York Saturday to an affectionate welcome at the airport from the bespectacled Negro entertainer, now working at a London club.

* * *

A series of statements reported dropped by Davis later confused the romantic situation somewhat. The Sunday Pictorial quoted Davis as saying he and Miss Britt would wed "probably next November."

"Man," the paper quoted him, "she's wonderful. Her father arrives from Sweden Sunday. We'll discuss our wedding plans with him. The color question doesn't come into it. It's not the color of the skin I love. It's the person."

The Sunday Express quoted Davis as saying it's "too soon" to say whether they will marry.

But, at an appearance in a London theater-restaurant Saturday night, Davis dropped this bit of intelligence when introducing Miss Britt to the audience: "She'll be Jewish in a month."

Davis has adopted the Jewish faith.

* * *

Mai's divorce from American law student Ed Gregson isn't expected to become final until September.

Sammy stuck to his plush hotel room in Mayfair Sunday, and wasn't answering the phone. Mai couldn't be reached. On Sammy's instructions, his London agent called a special press conference at the actor's hotel for Monday.

Shrine Dedicated To Mark Twain

FLORIDA, Mo. (AP)—The two-room cabin where Mark Twain was born 125 years ago was dedicated Sunday as a shrine to the memory of Missouri's most famous citizen.

The weather-beaten clapboard house has been moved from its original site, just a stone's throw away, to permanent housing in a modernistic swept-roof structure built at a cost of $250,000 in Mark Twain State Park.

* * *

In a dedicatory address prepared for the ceremony Gov. James T. Blair paid tribute to Samuel Langhorne Clemens, the famed humorist who wrote as Mark Twain in creating Tom Sawyer, Huck Finn and a host of other characters.

"Mark Twain spoke a universal language," Blair said.

"He does not belong to Missouri nor to any other one place or any one nation. He belongs to the world."

* * *

The governor noted that the unusual design of the shrine had been approved by Twain's daughter, Clara Clemens Samossoud of San Diego, Calif., who is ill and could not attend the ceremony.

She said, Blair recalled, that "like her father's architectural ideas, it was probably ahead of its time, but that if Mark Twain were living he would approve of it because of its individuality and departure from the usual."

Many mementoes of Mark Twain will be housed in the shrine, including the original manuscript of "Tom Sawyer" and copies of his works as translated into foreign languages.

Heavy Rain Delays Walking Doctor

BOONVILLE, Mo. (AP) — A heavy rain delayed Dr. Barbara Moore's transcontinental hike early Sunday.

The British physician started out at 4 a.m. from a point three miles east of Boonville but was forced to return to her motel room less than an hour later because of the rain. By 8 a.m. the rain had ceased and she continued her journey from a point six miles east of Boonville.

She did not specify where she intended to spend the night.

Dr. Moore covered 36 miles in muggy heat that hit 96 degrees Saturday before stopping for the night at Boonville.

British Group Warns of Walking Too Close to Edges of World

LONDON (AP)—Samuel Shenton has an interesting theory about all those people who are reported missing from home and seem to disappear.

He thinks they've walked off the edge of the world.

Shenton, a 56-year-old sign writer, is secretary of the International Flat Earth Society.

* * *

He says that if you keep walking in a straight line you will come to the edge of the world. Beyond this is a solid ice barrier. And behind this barrier may be the thousands of people who every year are reported missing.

Members of the International Flat Earth Society, who pay five shillings—70 cents—a year dues, are very serious about their beliefs.

* * *

Right now they are hopping mad at the British Broadcasting Corp. They say BBC deliberately set out to ridicule their society when Shenton appeared on a program last week to explain their beliefs to millions of viewers.

Shenton, red-faced and angry, declared: "It was obvious from the start the BBC didn't intend to take us seriously. I wasn't allowed to explain our beliefs in detail."

* * *

He said his flat-earth idea was not just a crazy theory. In 1920 he decided that accepted doctrines about the universe were false and that the earth was flat like a plate.

"When you travel around the world back to the point where you started from, it is just like walking around the edge of the plate," he explained. "Beyond the edge is a vast ice barrier—from beyond which no man has ever returned."

* * *

Shenton, who claims no scientific qualifications, believes the sun is only 32 miles across. It is a flat luminous disc. And so is the moon.

"Night and day are controlled by the sun's movements but the world never moves," said Shenton.

And, he claims, the world has a roof over it. But it's too high up to keep the rain off.

Over the years, Shenton claims, he has found hundreds of people who share his beliefs and who have joined the society.

No Russian Dressing Leads to Law Suit

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — A trucking executive who thinks salad goes with steak like bacon with eggs is going to have to pay a restaurateur $10,000.

A Circuit Court jury awarded that amount in damages Saturday to restaurant owner George King, who had asked for $50,000. King claimed he suffered permanent brain damage when hit May 19 by a customer who was irked because he couldn't get Russian dressing for his salad.

Court testimony brought out that trucking firm operator Ralph Shaw of Oxon Hill, Md., ordered steaks for his party then canceled the order beause there was no Russian dressing.

Shaw testified he remarked at the time that eating a steak without a good salad "was like wearing tennis shoes with a tuxedo."

Newlyweds Leave In Style for Honeymoon

NEW YORK (AP) — A newly wed couple whose romance developed during walks to the Hudson Tubes began their honeymoon trip Sunday with a ride in a private air-conditioned tube car.

The new car, which carried the wedding party of 15 from Jersey City to the tube terminal at 33rd St., was supplied by the Hudson & Manhattan Railroad Co. free of charge.

The former Miss Diane Dobrou, 19, of Jersey City, and Ronald Gruber, 23, of Woodhaven, Queens, were married Saturday in St. Paul's Catholic church in Jersey City.

The bride wore a pale blue cord summer suit with a white hat.

* * *

The couple met two years ago at the Cities Service Oil Co. on Wall St., where both are employed. She is a clerk and he an accountant.

The new Mrs. Gruber told reporters meeting the car at 33rd St. that she and Gruber used to walk from their offices in the evening to the Hudson Terminal at Chambers St., where she would board a train and he would then go to Pace College for evening courses.

OUTTA THE WAY

LIBERAL, Kan. (AP)—Making his rounds in downtown Liberal early one morning, night patrolman Jack Call heard a noise behind him.

Call looked back to see a small foreign-made car stalking him—on the sidewalk.

The driver, Jim Ulmer, was booked for reckless driving and forfeited $50 bond in police court.

Silver and gold are not the only coin; virtue also passes current all over the world.

—(Euripides)

Too Full a House

UNHAPPY actors, actresses, chorus girls and chorus boys are involved in a novel labor dispute in New York which has resulted in all the legitimate theaters being closed.

Unlikely as it may seem, this hassle contains elements of many of America's economic ills today.

The public, which pays up to $8.80 per seat, is somewhat astonished to learn that many of the actors who entertain them draw as little as $120 a week while playing, or $75 a week while rehearsing.

Plays are hits only about one time in four, and these actors spend much of their time hunting work. Each year there seem to be fewer theaters and fewer plays.

Why is the theater ailing? It appears that too many people and organizations have leaped on the gravy train over the years.

A producer hires only the number of actors and dancers he needs, but there are minimum numbers of stagehands, electricians, box office men, and musicians who must be hired whether he needs them or not. These people all draw bigger paychecks than the minimum for actors.

One successful show consisted of only two English comedians, sitting on a stage dressed only with curtains and one lone floorlamp, unchanged through the months of the run.

Yet, eight musicians reported to the theater each night for no reason but to draw unearned pay.

The demands of these unionists, strictly enforced, means less money available to pay the actors who work, and also means that plays don't last as long as they otherwise would. The income from declining ticket sales to meet the expenses of high overhead isn't enough, so a show that could still draw thousands of customers must close. Actors therefore work less.

Of course, government always shows up when money is changing hands, and there are stiff Federal and city taxes included in the seat prices, keeping many people from buying tickets.

Featherbedding and a big tax load have added up to a sick industry and high prices to the public.

Sometimes the theater teaches the lessons of life, and this seems to be one of the times.

Something For Anything

IT had to come soomer or later, we suppose.

The Federal government now has a program which consists solely of giving money away. That's all.

The National Science foundation has announced that this program will start modestly, with $2,900,000 of your money and mine. It will be given to universities with "no strings attached."

The foundation speculates that it will be used for research projects, buildings, raising teachers' salaries, or maybe something surprising. It asks that the recipients of this tax money report to Washington at the end of the year what they have done with the cash, but there will be no attempts to recover any that has been simply squandered.

We doubt that much of this money will be wasted, although there's always a chance that some pedant will put it to use on something as silly as the government's recently revealed research on what people do at cocktail parties. (They get drunk to some degree or other, and babble.)

But there is great doubt in our minds about whether this is a proper use of Federal revenue. We wonder, too, whether the Government has the legal right to abdicate its responsibility for how its funds are spent.

We predict, however, that if the program stays, it will get larger. They always do.

As this source of revenue increases, we further predict, private gifts to universities, will diminish. This always happens.

The universities will find themselves relying heavily upon Federal funds for their money, and about that time Congressman X will discover that the University of Pratt Falls, Md., has used tax money to give a scholarship to a communist, or that Hardknox College has thrown a barn dance with it.

Then there will be a demand that the Government control the money it gives to universities, as it should have done in the first place.

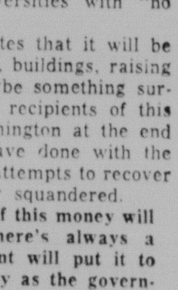

Our universities at that point will find themselves substantially under Federal control, and at the mercy of Congressional appropriations for their continuance.

Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where a former ambassador suggests the U. S. have not one but two vice presidents, both sexes being represented. In such a setup, the male veep would, no doubt, be the silent partner.

A lady columnist says a woman should change the color of her hair as a morale booster. Especially if it's gray?

And say: Whatever became of that suggestion of some 15 years ago to establish golf courses of 12 holes instead of 18? The idea must have gotten lost in the rough!

Hopin' you air the same,

Killing Birds, But Saving Selves?

Care With Chemicals

To the Editor: We are killing our birds with pest control chemicals, but we must use moderation in our attack on this method because we also are saving human lives.

It cannot be denied that insecticides have been abused and misused. So-called "shot gun" methods have needlessly destroyed wildlife.

Carelessness in handling the more potent compounds has meant illness even death to humans. It is a fact that overdosage and disregard of natural means of pest prevention has hastened a resistance problem.

Yet, thousands of human lives have been spared the ravages of insect-borne diseases, and food production destined for starving millions has been increased thanks, in great measure, to chemical controls.

Wild alarm and senseless generalizations are futile.

We must recognize insecticides for what they are—worthy supplements in the war against pests.

Carefully compounded after adequate field testing, judiciously applied by trained experts cognizant of potential harmful effects from misuse, they have a rightful place.

Pottstown FARMER

Goose Pluckers

To the Editor: There are many ways to kill the goose that lays the golden egg.

Plucking him alive to make featherbeds for unproductive workers is a favorite method of those politicians who confuse "liberality" with reckless spending of other peoples' money.

That's the sort of political philosophy which is torturing and relentlessly weakening our once sturdy American economic goose.

Pottstown STUDENT

Priced Out of Market

To the Editor: American markets are being flooded with a wide variety of merchandise from abroad. Domestic producers are being undersold by foreign competitors in many lines in which we have heretofore excelled.

Some of these are shoes, clothing, automobiles, typewriters, sewing machines, cameras, business machines, cement, machine tools, brass sheets and tubing, oil pipe, barbed wire and steel.

The basic reason for this is the wage price spiral which has far more than offset the gains from increasing efficiency.

A further rise in wages and prices will bring a new flood of goods from Europe, Japan, Hong Kong and other countries. This of course, will bring unemployment upon us.

It will also bring pressure for higher tariffs which will in turn reduce our export markets and cause further unemployment. This result might be avoided temporarily by devaluation of the dollar or more inflation but this would increase rather than diminish our troubles.

We cannot continue to price ourselves out of the market and remain prosperous.

Boyertown ASA

Suggest a Cure

To the Editor: I think when reckless drivers are arrested they ought to be sentenced in the accident emergency room of a Pottstown hospital.

This ought to reform or cure many a reckless driver. Let them see the destruction carelessness causes.

It's sensible, effective way to curb the slaughter by potential murderers behind the wheels of cars.

I hope the courts will consider this.

Pottstown ALARMED

Playing With Fire

To the Editor: It was not so long ago that Mr. Bulganin, one of the Russian leaders, was quoted as saying that the United States would become a socialized state not as a result of outside forces, but that we would vote ourselves into the situation.

Anyone who has watched the methods of many state and Federal law makers who favor putting government into tax exempt projects in competition with exorbitantly taxed private citizens and business can see Bulganin's prediction working out, not under the name of socialism, but under the more dangerous and false title of liberalism—free wheeling government spending and taxation.

It must make the Russians chuckle to see our own politicians playing their game and our people swallowing the bait.

If the people continue to sell their votes for political promises of something for nothing, promises that can only be financed by constantly more destructive taxation and inflation, they will have only themselves to blame for fulfilling Mr. Bulganin's prophecy that we will destroy our freedom from within.

Gossip In Gotham

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS dispatch describing the arrival of former President of Korea Syngman Rhee in Hawaii — "The Rhees brought six suitcases in their chartered four-engine plane. They cleared customs in 20 minutes.

Their luggage was not opened" — made fascinating reading for the many United States citizens who not only have had their suitcases opened, but have been forced to strip to the skin by the touch Honolulu customs inspectors.

Some Americans contemplating vacations in the Pacific have determined to skip Hawaii after hearing of their friends' humiliating experiences in the once-romantic land of the lei.

And Mr. and Mrs. Rhee's luggage, if opened, might have proved far more interesting than anything found on the innocent tourists who were asked to take their clothes off, Heavens knows why.

FRIENDS OF Desi Arnaz are worried about his health. He doesn't seem at all fit lately — and he's greatly overweight, although he doesn't eat much.

Get ready for the next "payola" investigation — in the sports field.

Joe Reader, who once owned a chain of French restaurants, including the original Lucky Pierre's — an instant hit when it opened — now toils as a waiter in Jilly's, a West 52nd street bar.

Tallulah Bankhead's chums report she's having trouble with her hearing. (Guaranteed: she'll never have trouble with her talking!).

It's bad news for Marge Chandler, ex-wife of actor Jeff, who was expected to become the bride of Steven Stanford, a California dress manufacturer. Instead, Stanford is scheduled to waltz down the aisle soon with Betty Jane Skelly, of New Orleans, whom he met just a month or so ago.

FRANK SINATRA was reported as "giving up" his "New York hideaway" apartment. Probably that's because it wasn't much of a hideaway — everyone knew it was a pad at 40 Central Park South. The Sinatra flat in Gotham is at 25 West 54th street.

Quiz question: When it isn't safe to stroll in Central Park after dark, why are so many New York policemen assigned to prevent mayhem — or murder, or something — every time there's wrestling at Madison Square Garden? Madison Square Garden is a private enterprise, isn't it?

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

DONNA D., aged 25, is a school teacher.

"Dr. Crane, I resent your remarks," she spoke angrily, "for you tell wives they should make concessions to their husbands and become boudoir actresses.

"Well, sir, I'd have you know that modern girls can earn their own living, so they don't need a husband at all.

"You say that men don't marry just to get a cook and laundress and that wives must constantly be on guard against losing their mates to sirens.

"Don't husbands have to watch, too, lest they lose their wives?"

* * *

YES, THERE is merit in Donna's charges, but you girls must remember that women far outnumber men!

So every wife should look at herself in the mirror each day and say:

"I am in a constant love triangle: Unless I can keep my husband thinking I am wonderful, some unscrupulous siren may win him away."

But that didn't strike Donna favorably.

"Dr. Crane, if I marry and my husband promises to love me as long as we both shall live, won't his promise mean anything?"

Girls, here's a big mistake wives have made ever since the modern wedding ceremony was invented.

* * *

MEN (AND women, too) can guarantee future motions but not emotions!

You can thus pledge that tomorrow at noon you will walk around the block or make a phone call or write a letter, and easily make good on that promise.

But to vow that tomorrow noon you will froth at the mouth with rage or shed tears of grief or shiver in terror . . . such emotions must be aroused afresh by the situation tomorrow noon!

Today's vow will thus not make a bridegroom love you tomorrow or next year or 25 years hence . . . unless:

And that big "unless" means you evoke his affection by your personality at that later date.

Inside Television

By EVE STARR

STARRLITEM: "Hallmark Hall of Fame," which undoubtedly has done more to raise the standards of TV drama than any other single show is going to take on Shakespeare.

This Summer a unit, under producer-director George Schaefer, will go to Scotland and England to film a two-hour version of "Macbeth." The color film will star Maurice Evans and Judith Anderson and is to be aired by NBC in the Fall.

Shakespeare has, of course, been done before on TV. And will be done again. As long as seven years ago, Evans did a two-hour live version of "Hamlet." And even today Orson Welles is planning another two-hour "Hamlet," this time to be done in modern dress. (That's been tried before, on the stage, and never to successfully.)

* * *

THE TROUBLE with Shakespeare is that the so-called "mass audience" doesn't dig him. And a lot of people who might otherwise dig him are bothered by a mental block brought on by the wholly inept teaching of Shakespeare in high school.

Shakespeare is to the drama what Beethoven is to the symphony. Unfortunately, TV has catered more to Mickey Spillane and Lawrence Welk.

In recent years, however, the long-hairs have shown signs of becoming humanized. In the field of music, Leonard Bernstein has emerged as one of the great teachers. Quite aside from the fact that he is an outstanding composer, conductor and pianist, Bernstein knows how to teach, how to get his message across to a younger generation in an exciting and stimulating way.

* * *

HERE ON the West Coast, Dr. Frank Baxter has done much the same for Shakespeare. His wonderfully clear lectures caught on so well that he actually held classes over the air and gave examinations to the enthusiastic viewers.

The Hallmark "Macbeth" has every chance to be a classic of its kind. Done in color and filmed on location with two of the world's finest Shakespearean actors in the leads, it has everything going for it. All it needs now is a tremendous promotional push to alert viewers of something quite special.

There also is need for an awareness that Shakespeare did indeed write in English and not in some strange, esoteric language that only the educated few can understand.

I am reminded of that old but still pointed story of the man who was dragged to his first Shakespearean play. This happened to be "Hamlet." Asked how he liked it, he said, "Well, it was all right, I guess. But that fellow Shakespeare just uses too many quotations."

California's presidential primary campaign—dull and dormant for weeks—suddenly came alive Sunday with bristling charges and countercharges.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown called for a big Democratic vote for his uncommitted Democratic delegation in Tuesday's election as a rebuke to Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

* * *

He renewed his attack on what he termed the eleventh hour 'McCarthyist" tactics of Nixon lieutenants in his home state.

George W. Milias, Republican state chairman, accused the governor of "sanctimoniously throwing rocks" at other candidates "in an obvious effort to divert attention from a Democratic slush fund of nearly a quarter of a million dollars."

His statement apparently attempted to offset Democratic assertions that Nixon's California campaign was costing $250,000 and that it was the largest amount ever put out for an uncontested presidential primary in state history.

Nixon is unopposed for 70 delegates to the Republican National Convention. Brown is opposed by Los Angeles old age pension promoter George H. McLain for control of 81 Democratic convention votes.

The voters will be able to mark only their own party ballot in Tuesday's election. Democrats, with a 3-2 edge, outnumber registered Republicans by 1,156,520.

Even so, Democratic spokesmen look for Nixon to outpoll Brown because of the Democrats' intra-party contest and the fact that traditionally a higher percentage of Republicans come out to vote.

Brown's statement against "McCarthyist" tactics was directed against a declaration by former congressman Patrick J. Hillings, now Los Angeles County Republican chairman, that a heavy vote for the governor would be interpreted by Democratic leaders as a blow to Nixon.

Hillings, in a political mailing, also said Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev would interpret the vote as a sign that the administration's attitude toward communism is not supported by the American people.

Brown characterized Hillings' pitch as "the old fear and smear tactics all over again."

Brown appealed to the 3,676,495 Democrats eligible to vote Tuesday to give maximum support to his slate of delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

The delegation technically is pledged to Brown as a favorite son but he emphasized that he's not a candidate for anything. He has given no hint of his preference for the presidential nomination. McClain says his slate favors Adlai E. Stevenson.

Milias noted that Nixon is the only actual candidate for president on the ballot and urged a strong GOP vote for the vice president.

TEENERS CORNER — All sorts of cartoons have been drawn, light literature written about the proclivity of teenagers for long telephone sessions. Some adults complain they can't get to the yak-yak gadget in their homes. Solved was the situation in the domicile of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lichtman, 104 Mt. Vernon street. The Lichtman twins, Marilyn and Sheila, have their own phone. Right under the name of their father it's listed. It was a birthday present on their 16th anniversary a year ago. The twins, by the way, will observe their 17th birthdays tomorrow.

★ TREND — "Come in and lie down," may be the invitation from your dentist on some tomorrow. There's a new dentists' chair which functions for the patient in a low, semi-reclining position. The dentist sits alongside the chair as he works. The changes, experts say, benefit both the patient and the dentist. Standing, it's believed, has contributed to the fact that 54 percent of dentists die of circulatory diseases. When the patient has to sit upright, experiments show that this makes him more tense. Actually, the best working position for the patient to be tilted to is at least a 50-degree angle and the dentist off his feet in a sitting position. . . . Your Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WE MAY have a built-in resistance to cancer. At least many scientists believe that cancer patients possess varying degrees of resistance to their own cancers.

The trouble is, however, that this apparently natural resistance seldom, if ever, is strong enough to fight off cancer successfully.

We know there have been cases of spontaneous remission, but they have been few. And, of course, we aren't exactly sure just what caused this sudden remission.

We are indebted to the ever-valuable mouse for this resistance theory.

Here's how mice helped in the research work:

Doctors Charles A. Evans and Russell S. Weiser of the University of Washington, injected some cancer cells into mice that were resistant to cancer.

These tumor-resistant mice destroyed the cancer cells. And the mice became immune to that particlar type of cancer.

The scientists took cells out of the lymph glands of the immune mice and mixed them in the laboratory with fresh cancer cells.

An amazing thing then happened.

The lymphoid cells attacked the fresh cancer cells. Either singly or in groups, they moved over the surface of the cancer cells, halting their heretofore ungovernable division.

The protoplasm of the cancer cells filled with bubbles. Within six hours many of the cancer cells were dying. Within two days all of these cells were dead.

This is what happened in laboratory dishes. This is also what happened in the mice.

The scientists injected cancer cells into the stomachs of the mice. When the mice were opened up from six to 36 hours later, the lymphoid cells were triumphantly patrolling the remains of the dead or dying cancer cells, all of which were riddled with bubbles.

Other scientists have found that the immune lymphoid cells somehow inject gene material called DNA into the cancer cells. This may be what kills the cancer cells.

However, it was found that lymphoid cells from mice not immune to cancer were much less effective in killing cancer cells.

A few scientists are now injecting hopeless cancer patients with vaccines of their own tumors to try to determine if natural resistance to the disease can be increased.

At present, though, this is strictly an experiment and no overall conclusions can be drawn.

Charles Galloway Dies Suddenly

Charles I. Galloway, 53, of 401 Washington street, Royersford, formerly of Schwenksville RD 1, died suddenly after he was stricken with a heart attack in his home Sunday at 10:30 a. m.

The husband of Vivian (Keefer) Galloway, the couple had only moved to the Royersford address about a week ago. Galloway collapsed in a closet where he had gone to get some tools, after doing some work in the cellar of the new home. He was removed to Pottstown hospital via ambulance, but was dead on arrival.

He was the son of Isaac and Mary (Weidensaul) Galloway, 365 Beech street, Pottstown, and was employed at the Goodrich Tire and Rubber company, Oaks. He was a member of Royersford Grace Lutheran church.

Surviving with his wife and parents are two daughters, Yvonne, wife of Claude Endy, Elverson, and Claudia Lee Galloway, at home; also a brother, Gordon Galloway, Kauffman road, Pottstown.

Local Leagues Schedule Games

Eleven games are scheduled this week in the Royersford Jay-Cee Little league and the Girl's Softball league.

Games scheduled in the major division of the Little league are today: Eagles versus Rockets; tomorrow, Warriors versus Bluebirds; Wednesday, Golden Hawks versus Rockets; and Friday Bluebirds versus Eagle. The standings in the Major league division are Bluebirds, (2-0), Warriors (2-0), Eagles (0-1), Rockets (0-1), and Golden Hawks (0-2).

Results of last week's games were Warriors 7, Golden Hawks 1; Bluebirds 22, Rockets 2; Warriors, 13, Eagles 8; and Bluebirds, 16 Golden Hawks 2.

The Minor league division has four games scheduled for Saturday. At 9 a. m., the Woodchucks will meet the Owls at the Washington Street Junior high field, and at the same time, the Beavers will meet the Jaguars at Victory park. At 1 p. m., the Shamrocks play the Zebras at the school field, while the Pelicans meet the Falcons at Victory park.

THE SPRING FORD Junior Girl's Softball league will open this week under the direction of Mrs. Joyce Morrow. Tomorrow evening, the Fillies play the Hawkettes and Wednesday evening, the Larks play the Wrens. Both games are scheduled for 6:30 o'clock on the Washington Street Junior High field. Thursday evening, the Cubs play the Fillies at Victory park.

The Royersford Babe Ruth league also lists four practice nights on the Senior High diamond. Tonight the JayCees practice; tomorrow, Legion; Wednesday JayCees and Traders; and Thursday, Lions.

3 STUDENTS INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Convertible Strikes Parked Car In Royersford

A convertible carrying three Villanova college students crashed into the rear of a parked car in front of 623 Main street, Royersford, at 1 a. m. Sunday, causing extensive damage to both cars and injuring the occupants.

Injured were: Thomas J. Moakley, Long Island, N. Y., the driver, cut lip and arm and abrasions; John D. Williams, Brooklyn, N. Y., bump across the bridge of the nose; Susan Lynch, Columbus, Ohio, cut lip and broken tooth.

Police said the 1955 convertible was going west on Main street and hit the parked car of Howard Fisher, pushing it forward 40 feet and up over the curb.

The entire front end of the car driven by Moakley was damaged. To the parked car the damage was to the left rear fender and body, right rear fender, tire and wheel and frame.

The accident was investigated by Patrolman Uriah B. Fox. The report said Moakley kept as far as possible to the right and being a stranger, thought it was the traffic lane. As he turned his head momentarily to talk to Williams in the back seat, he saw the parked car loom in front of him, but too late.

THE CASKET was placed directly in front of the altar, which was aglow with flowers.

During the playing of Handel's "Allelujah Chorus" at the close of the ceremony the casket was taken down the center aisle to the back of the church. The congregation stood in silence during the procession.

The Rev. Simpson had requested that the "Allelujah Chorus" be played at his funeral.

Ferdinand G. Malenke was the organist.

Interment was in Mt. Zion cemetery.

Bearers were Henry Bell, Abraham Buckwalter, H. C. Creswell, James Morris, Christian Stouffer and Robert Swinehart.

CPL. WILLIAM Bitler of the Thorndale barracks agreed that "things have quieted down considerably on Route 83." He, too, said that "The Mercury's publicity has certainly helped" in the battle to save lives on the highway.

Another man who is thankful for the relative peace and quiet now to be found along Route 83 is Irwin L. Romich, manager of a farm and owner of an antiques shop at the point where Park road intersects the highway.

The May 22 accident that killed a Pottstown girl and two Philadelphia youths occurred in front of his home. The girl died on his lawn while an ambulance was racing to the scene.

At the time, Romich was quoted as saying "that section is such a dangerous piece of highway that the people who aren't killed or injured are lucky."

Now Romich says he and his neighbors "sure are pleased with the results of the safety campaign."

"All I can say," he added, "is that I hope things stay as calm as they are now."

250 ATTEND AUCTION OF BLOCK ITEMS

OVER 250 persons from as far away as South Carolina attended the sale, Geyer said. "I'm not allowed to give the amount the auction brought, but it was in the thousands of dollars," he said.

Some of the items sold and their prices were: two ladies diamond rings, $620 and $525 each; platinum bar pin, $250; oriental rugs, from $110 to $410 each; a 120 piece sterling silver service, $444; imported Italian marble top chest of drawers, $55, and 12 gold band service plates, $120.

"In our opinion it was one of the largest and most attended sales of our 35 years of experience," said Geyer.

Co-executors in the sale were Elmer E. Saylor and the Security Trust company. Attorneys were Mauger, Kranzley and Markofski.

100F Will Be Host To Past Grands Group

Manatawny Lodge number 214, Odd Fellows, will be host to the monthly meeting of the Past Grands' association of Southeastern Pennsylvania, in Odd Fellows Temple, 260 King Street, this evening. Meeting will convene about 8:30 o'clock. All Odd Fellows were invited to attend the meeting, whether Past Grands or not. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

The association is composed of Past Grands of Odd Fellow lodges in Bucks, Chester, Delaware, Montgomery, and Philadelphia counties, and acts as a clearing house for inter-lodge activities in that area.

It sponsors various events, one of which is an annual picnic in August. This year's outing will be at Lenape park, near West Chester, on Aug. 13. Arrangements for this affair will be one of the items of business at this meeting.

'What Is Man?' Speaker Asks Of Graduates

"America will continue great only so long as she continues to honor the Creator," the Rev. Milton T. Wells, president of Eastern Bible institute, Green Lane, told 101 members of the Upper Perkiomen Joint High school graduating class at baccalaureate services Sunday night at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Red Hill.

Rev. Wells, whose son David is a member of the graduating class, told the graduates that there is a difference in the concept of what man is between the Western world and the Communist world.

"The Communist concept of man is that he is a material machine — matter and motion and nothing more. He is describable in terms of chemistry and physics— he has no soul and no spirit and has no significant individual value," he explained.

"But if men are but animals, why not treat them as such," the Rev. Wells queried the graduates.

* * *

HE EXPLAINED that many university students today are confused in their thinking because of the confused thinking of the adults in the world.

"Some of our elders wonder why we are not more excited over totalitarian agression and ruthlessness for most of us the international situation is ultimately a group of one animals without rights or free will torturing another group of the same breed," he quoted the confused university student as replying to adult questioning.

"For that reason it is vitally important that one answer this question — "what is man? — wisely for the good of our country. The Western powers 'hold these truths to be self evident— life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," he explained.

The Rev. Theodore Getz, pastor of St. Paul's, gave the benediction. The Girl's Glee club, under the direction of Sheila Godwin, performed several selections.

as seniority rights did not enter negotiations, since the strike was over "a matter of dollars and cents," noted Herbine.

The union bargaining committee recommended the contract be accepted by the 50 men at Teleflex. Herbine called the pact "a good and equitable agreement."

Besides Herbine, the union bargainers were Robert Conner, UAW international representative and Joseph Conner, Russell Wenhold and Thomas Hill, officials of the Teleflex unit of Local 644.

Management representatives were Charles Peacock, plant manager; Wesley Woodland, production superintendent, and Charles Short, attorney.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, it was reported that during May, 266 fires were reported in the county with a loss of $95,400 on property valued at $1,069,000.

Geissler said of the homes involved in fires, the contents were valued at $298,000 with only $180,000 worth of insurance.

Fifty one of the fires were dwellings, 33 autos and 145 field fires. Major causes were burning rubbish, 52 fires; grease in ovens, 11; short circuits and clothes dryers, ten each and children playing with matches, seven.

Geissler said a drier that has not been cleaned of lint has a good chance of catching fire because the heat from the drier will cause the lint to smolder and burst into flame

Meeting at the George Clay Fire house at West Conshohocken, John Carlin Sr., first vice president, presided over the 155 members present.

Knights of Columbus Promotes 12 Men

Twelve members of Father Bally Council 1192 of the Pottstown Knights of Columbus were promoted to the status of second degree members during a ceremony in the council hall, 268 King street, Sunday night.

They were: William Dongoski, Walter J. Padden, James R. Hennessey, Joseph J. Jones, Louis K. Query, Leonard A. Swann, Sandy A. Laghi, Antonio Dinnocenti, Theodore T. Ravis, Peter P. Sperat, Louis J. Semenza and Michael Marchu Jr.

CARS DAMAGED

Two cars were damaged at the intersection of High and Hanover streets Sunday at 3:40 p.m. when an auto driven by Eddie Bridges, Reading, struck the rear of one operated by Oliver Johnson, 501 West King street. Bridges told police he dozed off just prior to the accident. Police said Bridges will be sent a summons charging him with reckless driving. Sgt. Irvin K. Frederick investigated.

ment plant. Courthouse records will verify this and also indicate the purchase price of the tract involved.

"For him to accept from the authority more than the proportionate share of the purchase price for the acreage involved, plus a proportionate share of the taxes paid thereon, would in my opinion be highly unethical and immoral, as well as illegal under the State code.

"The views which he expressed to me were entirely different from the above.

"(Incidentally, the proposed Route 422 bypass plans presently show another portion of this tract to be used by the State).

"Now that this matter has been brought out in the open, I feel certain that the purchase price, if the ground is eventually used by the Authority, will be just."

* * *

STATE ATTORNEY General Anne X. Alpern, interviewed by The Mercury Friday, said the Authority should petition the county court to appoint a jury of view to determine the value of the land needed for the sewage treatment plant.

Preliminary plans call for four acres and four rights of way for the site of the plant, and the estimated price is $13,000.

Kohler said, "It should be apparent to all the residents of North Coventry that there is an urgent need for a public sewer system in our township.

"The debatable questions are (1) how large should the sewer district be?, (2) should we build our own treatment plant?, and (3) to what extent should provision be made for future expansion?"

* * *

KOHLER went on to express that he felt the voters should "have a voice whenever a major issue arises affecting all or a large segment of the citizens."

But, he explained, in order to build the sewage system, the township will have to incur large debt, and the only way this is possible under the State code is to go through an authority.

If there was not this large debt, the voters would be able to cast their ballots on the measure.

Kohler commended the authority for its long work, "all of which was done with no remuneration," and spoke of the members' "conscientious and sincere efforts."

"With all the intricate details involved it is quite possible they have erred in a few. If so, I feel quite certain they will seek a remedy."

Kohler said he wished to publicly thank the authority, and asked the township's citizens to give the project their support.

Local Pilots Drive To Clarion Party

Twelve members of the Pottstown Aircraft Owners and Pilots incorporated were forced to drive cars to the annual two day Summer party at Clarion Saturday and Sunday because of bad weather conditions, Alvin Renninger, president, said Sunday.

They joined members of the "OX-5 club" to celebrate the 40th year of flight operations at the Clarion field and honor those persons connected with its history.

Wesley L. Smith, Lodi, who flew the air mail route that began in 1919 between New York and Cleveland, was the guest speaker. He said the Clarion field was a stopping point on the run.

A dinner dance was held Saturday in the ballroom of the Parker D. Kramer VFW post 2145.

Boy, 11, Injured In Car, Bike Collision

An 11 year old Stowe boy was injured Sunday at 12:12 p. m. when his bicycle collided with a car at the intersection of Glasgow and Rice streets in Stowe.

Police said Thomas McKissic, 330 East Vine street, collided with a car driven by David S. Stetler, 546 West Walnut street, Stowe.

The boy was admitted to Memorial hospital with head injuries and cuts of the face. His condition Sunday night was satisfactory.

Patrolmen William McCann and Barry Rohrbach investigated.

Reads Solemn Thanksgiving Mass

REV. CHARLES J. McFADDEN

The Rev. Charles J. McFadden, OSA, celebrated a solemn mass of thanksgiving Sunday in Sacred Heart church, Royersford, on his 25th anniversary in the priesthood.

He was feted with a testimonial dinner at Spring-Ford Country club by St. Joseph's parish where he has served for the past 21 years. The parish includes Sacred Heart, St. Joseph's church, Spring City, and St. Clare's church, Linfield.

He commutes to the churches to celebrate holy masses from Villinova university where he teaches, and when the churches were without an assistant rector for many years, he took on the other work of the parish.

Father McFadden is the author of several widely known books, "Ethics for Nurses," "Reference Manual for Medical Ethics," "The Philosophy of Communism," and "Medical Ethics." The latter two have been translated into Spanish and are being translated into Portugese.

* * *

HE HAS traveled throughout the United States, Canada, South America and Europe and has lectured throughout the United States.

Father McFadden was ordained on June 11, 1935 at the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, Washington, D. C.

He received a bachelor of arts from Villanova university in 1932, a master of arts from Augustinian college, Washington, D. C., in 1935 and a doctor of philosophy from Catholic university of America, Washington, D. C., in 1938.

He is a professor of philosophy at Villanova, a professor of medical ethics at Fitzgerald-Mercy hospital School of Nursing, Darby, and was a professor of ethics and sociology at Rosemont college from 1940 to 1956.

* * *

HE WAS born in Philadelphia on April 30, 1909, son of Charles and Annie (Callahan) McFadden, who came to this country from Ireland. A brother, Harry, resides in Ardmore and a brother, James, in Wilmington, Delaware. A sister, Mrs. Albert C. Haas, also resides in Ardmore.

Another silver jubilee celebration will be held at Rosemont college chapel of the Immaculate Conception on the campus of Rosemont college Sunday at 12 noon when the Rev. McFadden will celebrate another solemn mass of thanksgiving. A luncheon will follow at Dougherty hall, Villanova.

Catholic Educator Is Victim of Cancer

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Rev. Michael J. McKeough, 68, one of the nation's leading authorities on Catholic education, died Sunday at St. Vincent's Hospital. He was a victim of cancer.

Father McKeough, a priest of the Norbertine order, was a professor of education at St. Norbert College in nearby Depere. He retired as dean of the college in 1957 to write a book.

In his career as an educator and writer dating back to 1926 he was professor of education at Catholic University of America, Washington, D.C., where he also was dean of the Catholic Sisters College and editor of the Catholic Educational Review; was founder and the first headmaster of Archmere Academy, Claymont, Del.; principal of Southeast Catholic — now Newman — High School in Philadelphia, and was founder and first director of Camp Tivoli, a boys' summer camp at Shawano Lake, Wis.

His doctor of philosophy thesis, written in 1926, on the Catholic attitude toward evolution has been widely quoted.

REV. DR. LUTHER A. KROUSE

"With the advent of instant coffee, instant mashed potatoes, instant rice and a hundred other pre-prepared foods, cooking is becoming a lost art," the Rev. Dr. Luther A. Krouse, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church, Hanover and Walnut streets, told his congregation Sunday morning.

"And the danger is that scripture might also become a lost art," he warned the worshippers.

His theme—A Lost Art—was taken from Psalm 119, verse 105. "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path."

"People have lost the ability to quote scripture as they once did," the Rev. Krouse noted. He also charged that Christians should know at least seven things.

"These seven things are the Lord's Prayer, the Ten Commandments, at least one or two of the psalms, the beatitudes from the sermon on the mount, the golden rule, the heart of the gospel as found in John 3:16, and one or two of the writings of the Apostle Paul."

HE EXPLAINED that just memorizing the seven things served no purpose.

"With regard to the Bible, there are four things the Christian ought to do," he explaining recounting an exercise remembered from seminary days.

The four things are:
1—Know it in his head.
2—Stow it in his heart.
3—Show it in his life.
4—Sow it in the world.

CUBS HONORED—The three boys shown above were awarded Parvuli Dei medals following the 9 a. m. mass Sunday at St. Aloysius Catholic church. They are, left to right, Donald Kassel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kassel, 876 South Hills boulevard; David Sperat, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sperat, 1220 Maple street and James Tirpak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Tirpak, 988 North Hills boulevard. All three boys are members of the church's Cub pack 249, Den 3. With them are the Rev. William M. Begley, pastor of the church, and Mrs. Catherine Tirpak, den mother. The boys are the first from the church ever to receive medals. The ceremony was witnessed by all members of the pack, who received communion at the 9 a. m. mass.

United Lutheran Group Acts To Inspire Church Interest

A new "evangelism activation" program was studied and approved Saturday by United Lutheran Churchmen of the Pennsylvania Ministerium.

The simple aim of the program is to get more people to church each Sunday in the 545 Lutheran congregations of eastern Pennsylvania.

The quarterly meeting Saturday was in St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, South Pottstown. Twenty-two attended the executive session.

Richard H. Snell, West Reading, was in charge of the meeting. It was reported that a recent clothing drive by the Lutheran World Action committee solicited enough garments for one million persons in the Far and the Middle East.

LEONARD ASHFORD, Philadelphia, was given a certificate of recognition for his past duties as first vice president and as a member of the executive committee.

It was noted that 10,392 applications were made for the Pro Deo Et Patria award since its inception. Less than 7000, however, have been awarded, with 2907 of successful applications going to Pennsylvanians.

The churchmen's group will meet Sept. 24 at an annual convention in Orland.

United Lutheran Churchmen of Trappe district will meet Wednesday in St. Matthew's church, Chester Springs.

Scoutmaster Will Be Honored For Service

Earl Webster, Spring City RD 1, will be honored for 27 years of service to Scouting at the Ridge Fire hall tonight at 6:30 o'clock.

The Men's Fellowship of the Pughtown Baptist church is sponsoring a luncheon in his honor.

Webster, 60, has served for 27 years as Scoutmaster of troop 23, sponsored by the South Coventry Home and School league and, more recently, of troop 25, of the Pughtown church.

Webster is planning to retire from his Scouting work. A "This Is Your Life" skit will be conducted by Cecil H. Good, a member of the church fellowship.

Webster is married and has four children.

He has received the District Order of Merit for his work with Boy Scouts.

HISTORIC CHURCHES

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two of the most historic churches in this area are "Old Stone," a Presbyterian church organized in 1820 when Cleveland was a village of 150 inhabitants, and First Presbyterian of East Cleveland, erected originally as a log structure in 1810.

Old Stone is on Public Square and now is dwarfed by office buildings. First Presbyterian has been celebrating its 150th anniversary this year.

MAN'S FRIENDS CALLED HIM "PEPLESS PETE"

A local man said his friends called him "Pepless Pete" because he was always worn out due to iron-poor blood; said he felt old before his time. He states vitamin pills didn't help. Today, this man has all the energy he needs and says the change is due to taking SYSTONE. This is the new medicine that enriches blood fast. Contains iron, plus vitamins, also herbs that relieve stomach gas. Costs only a few cents a day. So get Systone.—Bentz Drug Store, and all druggists in Pottstown and Montgomery County.

Bible Classes Will Attend Combined Meet

More than 100 representatives of the Pottstown Federation of Men's Bible classes will take part in a combined meeting of the Philadelphia and Pottstown organizations tomorrow night.

The Pottstown group will be repaying a visit of the Philadelphia men last June. At that time, the Philadelphia group met with the Pottstown organization at the Coventry Brethren church, Kenilworth, for a program of devotions, lectures and fellowship.

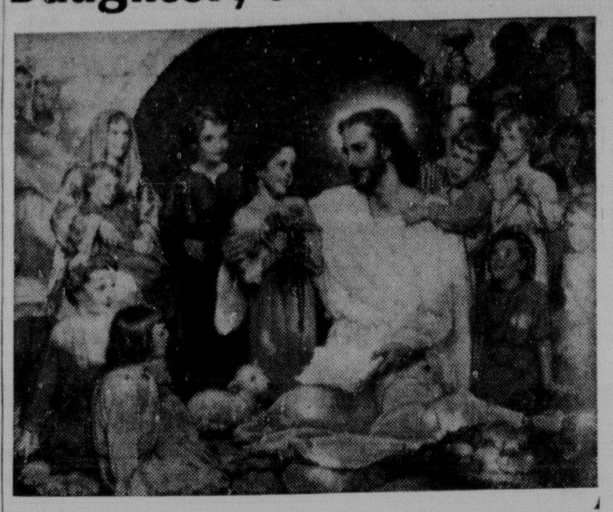

The joint meeting will have representatives from 20 Philadelphia churches, and 28 Pottstown area churches. The men will leave by bus at 6:30 p. m., from the borough parking lot.

Major parts in the program will be assumed by Paul Austin, Kenilworth; Eugene Hohl, Cedarville; Mrs. W. Russell Ober, 468 North Hanover street; and Merill M. Umstead, president, of 315 Chestnut street.

Austin will lead the group in prayer. Hohl will be song leader, accompanied by Mrs. Ober on the piano, and Umstead will be a speaker.

Religious Painting Shows Former Industrialists' Daughter, Grandchildren

Shown above is the painting in the Edward S. Fretz Memorial chapel of Trinity Reformed United Church of Christ. A plaque of dedication will be installed in the chapel this week.

The painting "Christ and the Children" was done by the well known Philadelphia Artist, Ralph Pallen Coleman, and dedicated to the memory of Mr. Fretz, a former Pottstown industrialist and leader in the church.

Several of the figures are modeled after Mr. Fretz's daughter and grandchildren. The artist's daughter, Jean Coleman, Jenkintown, is at the extreme left, holding a neighbor's child.

Holding the flowers and to the left of Jesus (with arm over Jesus' shoulder) are two of the artist's grandchildren. On the ground immediately to the right of Jesus is Dr. Fretz's grandchild, Patsy, and behind her is his grandchild, Richie, both children of Mrs. Huber. The rest of the children are anonymous.

The plaque with the painting reads "This assembly room has been designated by this congregation as the Edward Fretz Memorial chapel in memory of Edward S. Fretz, a faithful servant of the Lord in this church and in this community, 1892-1957. The oil painting, "Christ and the Children," is given in loving memory of her husband by Mabel Hobson Fretz, 1959."

OLD CONFLICT ARISES AT CHURCH MEET

Question Is Asked— What Is Role In Public Affairs

By GEORGE CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — An old and recurrent conflict in Christian history over the church's role in public affairs shaped up Sunday at the American Baptist Convention.

At its root, the question was whether the church should seek to assert religion-based views on controversial social issues, or concentrate only on reforming individuals.

* * *

Although prevailing convention sentiment seemed to favor maintaining ties with the interdenominational body, some delegates planned a determined effort Monday for withdrawal from it.

One of their main objections is that the council, through representatives of its 33-member Protestant and Orthodox denominations, at times makes pronouncements on current social problems.

* * *

"It doesn't speak for me or a lot of other people," said the Rev. Dr. F. B. Thorn, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Wichita, Kan. The Kansas church is leading the protest.

"I don't like the idea of church organizations becoming pressure groups. The main object should be to propagate the Gospel."

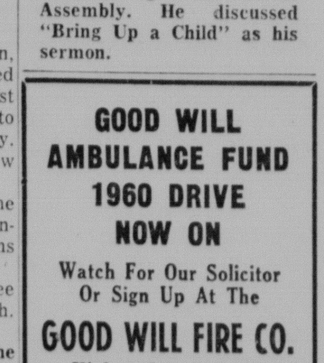

* * *

Lester Arvin, a lawyer and member of the Wichita delegation, maintains that Christian groups should not try to speak jointly on public affairs, but should leave the job up to individual Christians.

While other church leaders agree that the church's primary function is in spreading the faith to individuals, they also think the church has a corporate duty to express Christian insights on specific social ills.

* * *

And in an age of mass organizations, they feel that only the collective voice will be most heard.

GUEST SPEAKER — The Rev. Dr. C. Ransom Comfort, president of the board of pensions of the United Presbyterian church, was the guest preacher at Sunday services of the First United Presbyterian church, High and Evans street. Nearly 12,000 ministers, missionaries, and social workers are covered by the pension which also operates six homes for retired church workers. The Rev. Comfort is also a member of the church's General Council, the organization which oversees the operation of the denomination between annual meetings of the General Assembly. He discussed "Bring Up a Child" as his sermon.

75 Lutherans Declare Faith On Birthday of the Church

Seventy-five Lutherans in the Pottstown area were confirmed Sunday in a ceremony born of four historic changes.

Confirmations were on the festival of Pentecost, the birthday of the Christian church.

A declaration of faith is the main point of confirmation, an item unchanged throughout the ages. But the format of Lutheran services in the Pottstown area has been revamped.

Henry Melchior Muhlenberg organized Lutheranism here in 1742. Soon after, each church followed rites made in different parts of Europe.

* * *

A HYMNAL of the general synod brought unity to the area's Lutheran confirmations in 1880. But in those days, Lutheran confirmations were treated as an initiatory rite.

Putting emphasis on Pottstown area parishioners began in 1918, when the United Lutheran church arose.

In Sunday's confirmations, adults and children, fitted into the most recent change in Lutheran services. The Lutheran hymnal was "updated" two years ago, and the change accents even more the individual's part in a declaration of faith.

Briefly, confirmands gave a breakdown and explanation of the Apostle's creed.

The pastors' blessing to each was: "Father in heaven, for Jesus' sake renew and increase in thee the gift of the Holy Ghost to Thy strengthening in faith, to thy growth in grace, to thy patience and suffering and to thy blessed hope of everlasting life."

* * *

THE REV. Edgar M. Cooper, pastor of New Hanover Lutheran church for 14 years, Sunday confirmed the first teen-agers that he baptized as infants.

Five of 21 confirmands were in that group. All confirmands carried the new Lutheran hymnals, which were gifts from the congregation.

The Rev. Cooper's sermon noted that the Holy Spirit was given on Pentecost and that spirit was expressed Sunday by his confirmands.

The confirmands will receive their first communion as a group this Sunday at the festival of the Holy Trinity. The group will be honored June 25 at a congregational dinner in the church at 6:30 p. m.

* * *

THE REV. Richard G. Hoffert, pastor of Grace Lutheran church Sunday, confirmed about double the usual number.

Thirty-six confirmands in white robes declared their faith and received the Rev. Hoffert's blessing.

In his sermon, the Rev. Hoffert declared, "As people confirm a way of life, whether it be as confirmed bachelors or as confirmed alcoholics, so you must confirm your life to God."

He added that "A confirmed alcoholic escapes life, but a confirmed Christian regulates his life to reality."

* * *

THE REV. William Shaud, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, South Pottstown, confirmed 18 persons. He declared, "Pentecost came only when Jesus' followers were ready for it.

"Whenever men meditate and worship publicly, Pentecost can happen to them," said the Rev. Shaud.

Pennsburg Boy Wins 4 Awards At Perkiomen

David W. Hallman, of Pennsburg, received four awards for scholarship and service at commencement exercises Sunday at the Perkiomen school, Pennsburg. Seven other area youths also were in the graduating class.

The seven other youths were James F. Purnell, Pottstown RD 2; Wesley R. Grow, 256 East Third street; Roger K. Erb, East Greenville; David L. Gaskill and Joel B. Parrott, both of Pennsburg; Robert C. McCormack, Collegeville; and William F. Rupp III, Royersford.

Hallman was the recipient of the headmaster's award for special service to the school, the Bausch and Lomb Honorary Science medal, the Phi Beta Kappa award, and the Valedictorian Key.

The commencement address was presented by Robert E. Schultz, administrative officer of the Princeton - Pennsylvania Accelerated program. He spoke on "science and the Individual," calling on the graduates to realize that they are in a great age—"one of spontaneous advancement."

"As young men you must educate yourselves in the applications and limitations of today's technologies and scientific discoveries," he pointed out.

* * *

HE SAID that "these advantages lack morals, and it is up to us to lend ours to their identity." These morals he called honesty, initiative, vision, and a profound respect for religion and its values.

"The real strength of any nation and any civilization rests in the moral and creative character of its individuals," he concluded.

The Rev. William B. Bradshaw, pastor of Central Schwenkfelder church, used "Only One Way" as the theme of his sermon earlier in the day in the chapel, recalling for the graduates the story of the Biblical hero Nehamun.

Nehamun attempted to rid himself of leprosy and had nearly failed because he did not choose to follow the only way of God.

"The recognizable characteristics of leprosy," the Rev. Bradshaw explained, "are much the same as man's sin. It sets you apart from your fellow man, and is a slow disease which soon takes over your whole self."

"Two often," he concluded, "we seek the answer or guidance in the wrong place or the wrong people. We must seek the right way and ask him for guidance. There are always simpler ways of reaching the end, but there is only one way which is the right way."

Mrs. Fred H. Keiser 'Resting Comfortably'

Mrs. Fred H. Keiser, 68, of Third and Hanover streets, was reported "resting comfortably" at Pottstown hospital Sunday night.

Mrs. Keiser, who for many years was a leader in women's activities in the comunity, is undergoing treatment for pneumonia.

RECEIVES DEGREE — Lawrence R. Harvey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harvey, Linfield, recently received a bachelor's degree from West Chester State college. Harvey, majored in physical education and was a member of the varsity track and cross country teams, being co-captain of the cross country squad last year.

The games are each Wednesday evening beginning at 6:30 o'clock and the diamonds used by each team are as follows: Skippack at Meadow-Green Farm, Mill and Evansburg roads; Baptist at H. K. Boyer school in Evansburg; St. James Episcopal at Henry K. Boyer school; St. Luke's at C-T High school, Trappe; Augustus Lutheran at C-T High school and Trinity, Collegeville at Ursinus college. The public is invited to attend the games.

GRADUATES—James T. O'Reilly, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. G. T. O'Reilly, Parker Ford, recently was graduated from Columbia college. O'Reilly will teach history or political science. His father also is a graduate of Columbia college and now is chief of supply and service at Valley Forge General hospital. The family has lived four years in Parker Ford and will move to Germany later this month. The younger O'Reilly will remain in America.

WILL BE GRADUATED—James Daniel Wert, son of Mrs. Helen J. Wert, 318 West Walnut street, will be graduated next week from Girard college. Wert expects to enrol in the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, New York City, to study theatrics and musical comedy. While at Girard, Wert was a member of the glee and the dramatic clubs.

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING

Ruth Eleanor Body Becomes Bride Of Terry Neal Fetterman in Amityville

Yellow roses and white snapdragons decorated the altar of St. Paul's United Church of Christ, Amityville, Saturday for the marriage of Ruth Eleanor Body and Terry Neal Fetterman.

The bride is a daughter of Judge Ralph C. Body, of the Berks county Court of Common Pleas, and Mrs. Body, 56 North Reading avenue, Boyertown.

Mr. Fetterman is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen John Fetterman, 458 State street, East Greenville.

Bridal music was presented by Mrs. Harry Anderson, organist. Soloist was John Rose.

The Rev. William Solly officiated at the service. Judge Body escorted his daughter to the altar.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of silk organza and Italian silk. The basque bodice was fashioned with a jeweled neckline. A deep hem of silk appliqued scallops accented the full skirt which swept into a cathedral train.

A coronet of pearls secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids, yellow and sweetheart roses and ivy.

Deborah Wells Davis, Bound Brook, N.J., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Rosemay Lignelli and Suzanne Kohler of Boyertown.

Their gowns were fashioned with a Bo Peep bodice and full gathered skirt. To complete their attire, they wore picture hats in Milan straw, banded with velvet ribbon, and carried bouquets of golden rapture roses.

Joseph Body, cousin of the bride, was acolyte. Best man was John Olson. Ushers were Howard W. Body, brother of the bride, and Anthony Falconieri.

A reception followed in the church social rooms. Mother of the bride, Mrs. Body, received in a print sheath dress of pastel muted-warp silk and matching accessories. Mrs. Fetterman, mother of the bridegroom wore a silk organza sheath dress with matching accessories.

The bride was graduated from Boyertown High school and Bucknell university. A member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, she will begin teaching in the Fall at Carlisle school district.

Mr. Fetterman was graduated from Upper Perkiomen High school and Bucknell university where he was a member of Phi Lambda Theta fraternity. He is a student at Dickinson College School of Law, Carlisle.

A rehearsal dinner was given at Amity House for the bridal party by Judge and Mrs. Body.

Pre-nuptial parties were given by Deborah Davis, Mrs. John Bradley, Mrs. James Stoudt and Suzanne Kohler.

TROTH IS TOLD—The engagement of Sandra Lee Hoffman, daughter of Mrs. Josephine Hoffman, 874 South street, and Clarence M. Hoffman, Norristown, to Gerald W. Fryer Jr., is announced by the prospective bride's parents. Mr. Fryer is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald W. Fryer Sr., 129 South Keim street. No wedding date has been set.

James Joseph Peck, Mary A. Weiser Wed in St. John's Lutheran Church

Palms, white gladioli, pompons and candles decorated St. John's Lutheran church Boyertown Sunday for the marriage there of Mary A. Weiser and James Joseph Peck.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel G. Weiser, 816 Rhoads avenue, Boyertown. Parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Peck reside at 546 Montgomery avenue, Boyertown.

The Rev. Fred E. Blank officiated at the double ring ceremony at 3 p. m. in the presence of 250 guests. Mrs. Kenneth Weisel was organist and also accompanied the soloist, John Rose.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a bustle-back gown of pure silk organza. Appliques of re-embroidered alencon lace etched with seed pearls trimmed the sabrina neckline and bell shaped skirt. Sleeves were long and tapered.

A circlet of orange blossoms held her lace edged fingertip veil. She carried a cascade of camelias, stephanotis, roses and ivy.

Mrs. Myron Hallock, Ridley township, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were: Janet Law, cousin of the bridegroom, Pottstown; Margie Hand, the bride's college roommate, Scranton; Joan Schoelkopf, Reading, and Mrs. James Williams, Souderton, both college friends.

Attendants were gowned alike in light blue organza dresses, matching blue orange blossom crowns with long face veils and white mitts.

Flower girl, Carol Law, East Earl, wore a white organdy dress and flower crown. Her bouquet was a miniature copy of the brides.

Eugene Fox, Boyertown, served as best man. Daniel Weiser, brother of the bride; Luther Rife, cousin of the bridegroom, Pottstown; Lewis Molnar, a college friend, Coatesville, and Norman Shutovitch, the bridegroom's college roommate, ushered.

Mrs. Weiser chose a beige silk organza dress for her daughter's wedding. Mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Peck was attired in mint green silk organza.

A reception was given at Boyertown Orioles home. When the bride left for her wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, she was wearing a full skirted dress of blue and white check.

When they return in one week, Mr. and Mrs. Peck will reside at 546 Montgomery avenue, Boyertown.

Both are members of the class graduated in May from Bloomsburg State college. They received B.S. degrees in business education. Both were graduated from Boyertown Area High school in 1956.

Mr. Grimm will enter Dickinson Law school, Carlisle, in September.

Guests attended the wedding from: Hazelton, Philadelphia, Ashland, Coatesville, Allentown, Forty Fort, Bloomsburg, Berwick, Montrose, Shamokin, Sunbury, Royersford, East Earl, Bethlehem, Reading, Pottstown, Kingston, New York, New Jersey and Virginia.

Parents Reveal Troth Of Gail D. Conrad

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Hock, East Greenville RD, announce the engagement of their daughter, Gail D. Conrad, to Terry E. Prutsman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Prutsman, Main street, Pennsburg.

Miss Conrad is a member of the 1960 graduation class of Upper Perkiomen High school. Mr. Prutsman is employed at a restaurant owned by his parents.

No wedding date has been set.

Raymond Maleski Feted on First Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Maleski, 359 West Walnut street, were hosts at a birthday party given for their son, Raymond.

Raymond celebrated his first birthday.

Guests were: Dennis, Debby and Donald Woodring and Shirley and Richard Jr. Maleski.

Exhibits, Attendance at Rose Show Top Previous Shows by the Hundreds

By DOLLIE SMITH
(Mercury Staff Writer)

A great deal of competitive spirit, anticipation and enthusiasm accompanied the Pottstown Rose society's most successful rose show in the show's nine-year history.

More than 2000 persons attended the event Saturday morning, afternoon and evennig in the new building at North Coventry Elementary school.

Entries more than doubled the number on display at last year's event. One thousand three hundred thirty-one exhibitions plus 51 arrangements were shown. Last year's entries totaled 653.

Attendance for the eighth annual show was 1500.

Anticipation mounted as judges secretly marked each one of the tally cards fastened to each bloom.

Results revealed that ten of the 24 trophies were awarded to members of the rose societies sponsoring shows which awarded so many of their trophies to Pottstown members several weeks ago.

"It appeared that they wanted to get back at us," a society spokesman commented. "And we're actually happy about it. It shows good healthy competitive spirit."

Joseph Selagyi, local member, entered a show at Hagerstown, Md., and took sweepstakes, best three of a kind and 21 ribbons. In Pennsauken, N. J., last week he again took the sweepstakes, blue ribbons and 15 other awards.

Mrs. Edmund Engle took nine prizes at Pennsauken and the novice trophy was won by Edwin Hums. Mr. Selagyi's son also won a number of prizes in the children's show at Pennsauken.

Another society member, Warren Hoffman, won nine ribbons at Baltimore, Md.

In retaliation, Carl Greenberg, Baltimore, Md. won best rose of the show Saturday from Pottstown. For this he recived the Pottstown Rose society trophy.

The best rose was the Rubyiat.

Mr. Greenberg also won trophies for best red rose of show and best white rose of show.

John R. Hughes, of Pennsauken, N. J., took trophies for third best rose of show, sweepstakes of show, best single rose of show and best floribunda of show.

F. J. Engle, also of New Jersey received the Carl Ressler perpetual trophy for best grandiflora. Representing Maryland, Benjaman Williams took best yellow rose of show and the Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Yanos trophy for challenge class A, four different exhibition blooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ludy, 122 Beech street, took two trophies, one for fourth best rose of the show and another for the 51 to 100 bush sweepstakes.

Others were awarded as follows: second best rose of show, Bert J. Meyers; best pink blend of show, Mrs. Paul Duttenhofer, Pottstown; best arrangement of show, Mrs. Helen Haring, Boyertown; challenge class B., Nicholas Yanos.

Also, children's sweepstakes, Bonnie Eczko, Pottstown; best children's arrangement, Ginger Lee Johnson, Pottstown; best miniature rose arrangement by children, John Haring, Boyertown; church arrangement, Salem EUB church.

And, women's organization arrangement, Pottstown Garden club; informal church arrangement, Amityville Lutheran church and sweepstakes, one to 50 bushes, Marian Leberman, Weavertown.

Mrs. Ralph Weidner won a trophy for the best open bloom of the show. While she was proud of her accomplishments, she also seemed embarassed. She won the Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Weidner trophy and has permanent possession.

County 8 and 40 Hears TB Society's Need for Aides

Mrs. Jeanette C. Baker, public health nurse and program assistant for the Montgomery county Tuberculosis society, was speaker at a meeting of the Eight Et Forty salon 454, Montgomery, at a meeting in Norristown Legion home.

Mrs. Baker outlined the work done by the society and told of its need for volunteers and trained nurses.

Mrs. Mary Styer, Collegeville, scholarship chairman of the salon, introduced the speaker.

Hosts at the meeting were members of the Collegeville and Schwenksville groups.

Departmental chairman of partnership, Mrs. Elmer Betz, Pottstown, reported on membership in the state and congratulated her salon for reaching quota.

Child welfare chairman, Mrs. Hastings Crouthamel, made an appeal for articles for the TB children at Philadelphia General hospital.

Plans were made for a picnic in August.

Election of officers will take place at tonight's meeting at 8 o'clock in the Norristown Legion home.

Mrs. Fred Fairlie Jr., Graterford, le petit chapeau, conducted the business meeting.

Jack L. Grimm, Frances E. Hausmann Exchange Vows in Double Ring Rites

The marriage of Frances Eloys Hausmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earle F. Hausmann, Sanatoga, and Jack Lawrence Grimm, Lykens, was solemnized Sunday afternoon in the First Methodist church.

Mr. Grimm is a son of Mrs. Fae Grimm and John Grimm, both of Lykens.

The Rev. Donald Nowers, pastor of the Grace Methodist church, Lykens, officiated at the double ring ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Lewis Leaming Jr., pastor of First Methodist.

Organist for the wedding was Harold Mitchener, Bristol. Etta Jean Hershey, Lititz, was soloist. Pink and white flowers filled the altar vases for the 3 o'clock service.

Mr. Hausmann gave his daughter in marriage. Her cathedral trained gown of rose point lace and tulle was fashioned with a long sleeved, fitted bodice above a bouffant skirt. Jewels trimmed the sabrina neckline.

Her triple tiered veil of illusion was draped to a jeweled pillbox headpiece. She carried a white Bible with pink sweetheart roses.

Carolyn Brosius, Aberdeen, Md., the bride's college roommate, was maid of honor, wearing a floor length gown of flowered nylon, with trim of blue taffeta to match the flowers.

Taffeta roses in the same blue trimmed her veiled headband. She carried a bouquet of mixed flowers.

The bride's sisters, Mrs. John Jerman, Pottstown, and Mrs. L. A. Pillsbury, Meramar, Fla., and Kay Grimm, Lykens, niece of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. Linda Levengood, Meramar, Fla., the bride's niece, was junior bridesmaids.

They were costumed like the honor attendant in orchid, aqua, yellow and pink, respectively. Their bouquets were of mixed flowers.

Beth Nowers, Lykens, was flower girl. Her ensemble was like the attendants' but in burnt orange. Rings were carried by the bridegroom's nephew, Richard Grimm, Aberdeen, Md.

William A. Kummer Jr., Royersford, the bridegroom's college roommate, served as best man. Guests were seated by Samuel Rogers, Bristol; Dale Bunting, Selbyville, Del.; Ronald Paine, Schaefferstown; David Krall, Philadelphia, and junior usher, Bruce Levengood, Meramar, Fla.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Hausemann, and Mrs. Grimm, mother of the bridegroom, chose blue costumes. Their corsages were of red roses.

Following a reception at Blossom restaurant, the newly married couple left for a one-week honeymoon in the Pocono mountains. The bride chose a yellow cotton dress for traveling.

Mr. and Mrs. Grimm will reside in Sanatoga. Both were member of the class graduated in May from West Chester State college. They received B. S. degrees. Mrs. Grimm is an alumnus of Pottstown High school and Mr. Grimm, of Lykens High school.

Guests attended the wedding from: Maryland, Illinois, Florida, Texas, California, Delaware, Lykens, Harrisburg, Bristol, Philadelphia, West Chester, Pottstown and the Sanatoga area.

Poconos Honeymoon Follows Marriage Of Robert C. Schoenly, Shirley Youse

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carlton Schoenly are honeymooning in the Pocono mountains following their marriage Saturday in St. Joseph's Hill Lutheran church.

The bride is the former Shirley Marlene Youse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Youse, Shanesville. Mr. Schoenly is a son of Mrs. Anna Schoenly, Spangsville, Oley RD 1, and the late Lloyd Schoenly.

The Rev. Luther Lee Lengel officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony. A double ring service was used. Altar vases were filled with peonies and gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in chantilly lace, fashioned with a jeweled sabrina neckline, wrist pointed sleeves and a fitted bodice. The bouffant skirt featured tiers of lace ruffles in front and ended in a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was draped to a lace crown trimmed with pearls and iridescents. She carried a white Bible topped with a purple lipped white orchid and shower of ribbon and stephanotis.

For something old and borrowed, the bride carried a 40 year old lace handkerchief belonging to her mother-in-law, Mrs. Schoenly.

Sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Robert Youse, Boyertown RD 1, was matron of honor. Her floor length gown of white nylon sheer, showing an orchid floral pattern, was styled with scoop neckline and short sleeves. An orchid taffeta cummerbund was caught in back with two roses of the same material and fell in a wide panel to the hemline.

She wore an orchid picture hat and carried a nosegay of white and orchid carnations.

Bridesmaids were Janet and Margie Lou Youse, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Larry Hartline, all of Shanesville. Their costumes were like that of the honor attendant but accented in maize, pink and aqua, respectively.

Their flowers were carnations in the same colors as their gowns.

Bruce Cleaver was ring bearer and flower girl was Lorraine Cleaver. The flower girl was gowned like the honor attendant and carried a basket of mixed flowers and rose petals. She scattered the rose petals before the bride.

George Christman, Boyertown RD 3, performed the duties of best man. Warren Griesemer and Daniel Cleaver, both of Boyertown RD 1, and Robert L. Youse, Boyertown RD 3, brother of the bride, were ushers.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Youse, was attired in a blue lace dress with white accessories and white orchid corsage. Mrs. Schoenly chose a blue lace dress and blue and white accessories for her son's wedding. Her corsage was of pink roses.

A reception took place at Earl Township Volunteer Fire company hall.

Wedding guests were from Reading, Pottstown, Fleetwood, Palm, Birdsboro, Esterly, Stowe, Oley, New Berlinville, Sassamansville, Douglassville and East Greenville.

When the couple left for their wedding trip, the bride was wearing a black and white organdy dress with white accessories and her bridal orchid. When they return they will reside in Spangsville with the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Schoenly.

The bride was graduated from Boyertown Area High school and is employed as an attendant at Institute of Banking, Reading. Mr. Schoenly is a graduate of Oley Valley High school.

A pre-nuptial shower was given for Mrs. Schoenly by her mother and attendants.

Christ Episcopal Church Mission Guild Receives News of Students It Aids

The Mission guild of Christ Episcopal church received news of students it has helped when members gathered at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Arthur Schultz, 138 Mt. Zion avenue, South Pottstown.

Mrs. Pierce Grimley, reporting on Indian projects, read a letter from Lyda Marie Mountain, for whom the guild has provided a scholarship at St. Mary's school, Springfield, S. D., the last four years.

Miss Mountain was one of four pupils chosen to attend the DAR Continental congress in Washington, D. C., and her letter described her trip. She will be graduated this month and plans to continue her education in nursing.

A letter from Andrew Suefuji, a Japanese boy the guild is helping to attend a Japanese university in preparation for entering a seminary, was read by Mrs. William Wright.

He wrote he plans to meet John Van Renssalaer, a member of the local parish now serving with the U. S. Navy in the Far East, when he lands in Tokyo. Mr. Suefuji is planning to escort him on a tour of Japan.

The guild decided to make donations to St. Elizabeth school and Standing Rock mission, both in Wakapala, S. D. A clothing collection is planned for the Fall for benefit of the mission.

Mrs. Schultz agreed to remain as chairman until Jan 1, 1961, so the term of office will coincide with the calendar year. Previously the term began and ended in June.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Schultz served refreshments to those attending: Mrs. Grimley, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Alan Holt Jr., Mrs. Ethel Brown, Mrs. Daniel Fallon, Mrs. James Henry and Mrs. William G. Lawrence.

Richard L. Harpel, Kathleen J. Nyce Wed in Pennsburg

A single ring ceremony was performed in St. Mark's Lutheran church, Pennsburg, uniting in marriage Kathleen Julia Nyce and Richard Leon Harpel.

The Rev. Henry Kistler officiated at the service at 2 p. m. Saturday.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Langyel, Coopersburg RD 2. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Harpel reside at 522 West Fifth street, Pennsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Peart Jr., Red Hill, attended the couple.

The bride chose a gray and white suit, white accessories and corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Peart was attired in a gray suit with corsage of red roses.

The newly-married couple is residing at 118 Main street, East Greenville.

Mrs. Harpel is employed at Lehigh Knitting mill, Pennsburg. Mr. Harpel is an employe of Daystrom Transicoil corporation, Worcester.

French Creek PTA Board Discusses 1960-'61 Programs

Frederick Cadmus 3d, newly elected president of the French Creek Valley jointure PTA discussed a tentative outline of next year's program with board members at a meeting in his home, Glen Moore RD 1.

Mrs. Irving S. Dunn, retiring president, conducted the session. She urged those interested in PTA to attend a school of instruction this evening at 7:30 o'clock at Pottstown Junior High school.

She also thanked board members for their co-operation during her term in office.

Ways and means chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Batdorf, reported on the success of the annual Spring festival and announced that proceeds will be used for library books.

Principal James Dell announced that bonds will be given to the boy and girls in the Sixth grade with the highest scholastic averages.

He also reminded the group of Summer kindergarten. Refreshments were served at the session's close.

Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Sellers, Mrs. Kenneth Batdorf, Donald Silknitter, Mrs. William Madden, Mrs. George Houck, Mrs. Thomas Clifford, Mrs. Raymond Good, Mrs. Robert Linn, Mr. Dell, Mrs. Herbert Fosnocht, Mrs. Grace Loomis, Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. Joseph Placido Sr.

Washing Blankets

Fine wool blankets can be washed successfull in an automatic washer if you shake each one first to remove loose dirt, use lukewarm water, carefully measured soap or detergent, and set the dial for a very short cycle.

Wool blankets may also be dried automatically at a low heat setting; add three or four bath towels to serve as buffers in the dryer. Remove each blanket while still slightly damp, and hang lengthwise over parallel clothes-lines. When dry, shake vigorously or brush to fluff up the nap.

Pinter-Hornsby Rites Are Read By Pottstown JP

The marriage of Doris Hornsby and Frank Pinter was performed in a civil ceremony Saturday by Justice of the Peace Raymond Kelley at his home, 255 High street.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williamson, 1400 East Philadelphia avenue, Gilbertsville. Mr. Pinter is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Dry, 1329 East Philadelphia avenue, Gilbertsville.

The immediate families and friends attended the double ring ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride chose a powder blue ballerina length gown and matching headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with streamers.

James Walters, Spring Mount, was best man. Edward Ziemba was usher.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Williamson, wore a navy blue dress, white accessories and a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Dry, mother of the bridegroom, wore white accessories and a white carnation corsage with her pink dress.

Both the bride and bridegroom attended Boyertown schools.

Prospective Bride, Margaret Fortin Feted at Shower

A bridal shower was given for Margaret Fortin, Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Nicholas Yanos, 334 Vine street, Stowe.

Hostesses were Mrs. Yanos, the honored guest's prospective mother-in-law and prospective sisters-in-law, Theda Yanos and Mrs. Betty Yanos.

Miss Fortin, Brooklyn, N. Y., will become the bride of Paul H. Yanos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Yanos, June 25, in St. Peter's Lutheran church, Stowe.

Guests were: Mrs. Leonard Bolton, Mrs. Peter Lendhart, Mrs. Frederick Yerger, Mrs. Clifford Tatman, Mrs. Elizabeth Ehling, Mrs. Bernard Yanos and Mrs. Donald Yanos.

Gifts were sent by: Mrs. James Walters, Mrs. Betty Chicalo, Mrs. Jacob March, Mrs. Robert Harp Sr. and Mrs. Clarence Eagle.

Eisenhower Blasts Leaders 'Who Brandish Satellites'

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — President Eisenhower, clearly jabbing again at Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, spoke out Sunday against world leaders who "brandish angry epithets, slogans and satellites."

Addressing a crowd of about 7,000 at the University of Notre Dame commencement exercises, the President thus struck back at the Kremlin leader for the second time within 24 hours.

* * *

After receiving an honorary doctor of laws degree, Eisenhower deplored leaders who hurl angry epithets as "the enemies of human dignity." He did not mention Khrushchev by name.

Saturday night, in a talk at West Point, N.Y., the President did name Khrushchev and said his "excesses" and "ill-tempered expressions" had made the Western Alliance stronger than ever.

The two occasions marked the President's first public notice of Khrushchev's campaign of vilification against him.

* * *

Under sunny skies on the Notre Dame mall, Eisenhower told his audience America's great need is for more talent in government in this age of international tension and peril.

The President, wearing cap and gown, called on college-educated youth to lead a crusade "to help the political life of the nation soar as high as human wisdom can make it." In these times, he added, the United States operates "on a relentless timetable which we must race to keep events from overwhelming us."

Eisenhower got a warm welcome to South Bend. Police estimated the turnout on the streets at 200,000 in a metropolitan area where the population is figured at 250,000.

The citation which accompanied Eisenhower's honorary degree lauded him as "the most eminent and popular statesman of his time—the revered leader of his people."

Eisenhower almost certainly had Khrushchev in mind in saying Sunday: "The enemies of human dignity lurk in a thousand places—in governments that have become spiritual wastelands, and in leaders that brandish angry epithets, slogans and satellites."

* * *

But Eisenhower at the same time cautioned that freedom in this country can be imperiled "where peoples, worshipping material success, have become emptied of idealism." He said further: "Peace with justice cannot be attained by peoples where opulence has dulled the spirit—where indifference has supplanted moral and political responsibility."

The President urged America's young people to get into politics and said the able have a responsibility to accept government policy positions.

* * *

"Neglect of our civic responsibilities," he said, "will be a greater danger to a free America than any foreign threat can ever pose; but an enlightened, dedicated people, studiously and energetically performing their political duties, will insure us a future of ever-rising standards of spiritual, cultural and material strength."

Crowds standing three, four and five deep greeted the President along the way to the campus.

* * *

In the Sunday morning crowds under rain-threatened skies, hundreds of American flags were waved as Eisenhower rode by.

And there were signs which read: "God bless you, Ike . . . We like Ike . . . We still like Ike."

Eisenhower flew to the commencement exercises from the United States Military Academy at West Point where he had arrived from Washington Saturday for the 45th reunion of his 1915 graduating class.

He arranged to fly back to the academy immediately after the Notre Dame ceremonies to take part in additional alumni activities Sunday night and through Monday.

Unemployed

After-Theater Restaurants Hurt By Black Out of Broadway Plays

NEW YORK (AP) — Suffering restaurant owners Sunday begged Actors Equity and Broadway producers to let them help settle the dispute that has blacked out all Broadway theaters.

A telegram to the union and the League of New York Theaters, which represents the producers, was signed by Vincent Sardi, president of the Restaurant League of New York, and other league officials.

* * *

Sardi's is one of the most famous of the after-theater restaurants, which reportedly are losing from 35 to 65 per cent of their nightly business becuase of the theater shutdown.

The telegram said it was the duty of Equity and the producers to work for a quick settlement, adding: "Unless this is done hundreds of businessmen are threatened with permanent loss of jobs.

"If we can be of any constructive assistance we are prepared to meet you at any time and at any place."

There was no immediate response from either the producers or the union. Negotiations have been suspended over the weekend for a cooling-off period with the next bargaining session set for Monday afternoon.

Key issue is Equity's demand for a pension plan to be financed by the producers. The producers want the union to share part of the expenses of a pension.

Equity members struck the play, "The Tenth Man," and closed the show last Wednesday night. The producers retaliated by shutting down all the other Broadway productions the following night. One of these, "Finian's Rainbow," does not plan to reopen even after a settlement.

Earthquake Shakes California City

The tremor, at 6:20 p. m., swayed light fixtures and rattled windows, but no damage was reported.

GOP Announces Staff Changes For Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton announced Sunday the first of a series of headquarters staff changes in preparation for what he said will be the hardest-hitting campaign yet.

* * *

1. L. Richard Guylay of New York and Washington, to be director of public relations, a job Guylay held during the 1956 campaign.

2. Hal E. Short of Portland, Ore., publicity chief since Jan. 3, as executive assistant to Morton.

3. Albert B. (Ab) Hermann of New Jersey and Washington, D.C., as campaign director. The post of executive director, now held by Hermann, is being abolished and the day-to-day management of national headquarters transferred to the chairman's office.

* * *

"From here on in," Morton said in a statement explaining the changes, "the tempo of campaign activities and responsibilities will pick up rapidly and we are reshaping the staff structure for maximum staff efficiency and campaign impact.

Students Clash With Police

Two students throw sticks at helmeted police as others pick up stones during leftist demonstration in Tokyo today in front of Prime Minister Kishi's official residence. They were protesting the U.S.-Japan security pact and the planned visit of President Eisenhower to Japan.

Japanese Prime Minister Backs Invitation to Ike

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi is determined to stand firm on the decision to have President Eisenhower visit Japan June 19-22 and those who oppose him are just as determined to thwart the visit.

Kishi told Mitsujiro Ishii, chairman of the ruling Liberal-Democrats Sunday that "no matter what may come" he intends to hold fast against demands to withdraw the invitation to the President.

His determination came after reports that the powerful left-wing labor federation Sohyo, with 3½ million members, may greet the President with demonstrators wearing black mourning ribbons and armbands and flying funeral flags. Sohyo's plans are scheduled to be approved at a convention next Wednesday and Thursday in southern Japan.

With only two weeks remaining before Eisenhower's arrival the big labor group also is planning mass demonstrations Friday and Saturday when White House press secretary James C. Hagerty reaches Tokyo to work out plans for the presidential visit. The labor body—with support from the Socialist and Communist parties, left-wing students, some professors and various intellectual groups—hopes the demonstrations will impress Hagerty with what is in store for Eisenhower.

* * *

Ike's visit originally was billed as a goodwill trip to further friendly relations as part of ceremonies commemorating the 100th anniversary of Japan-U.S. relations. Now it has become entangled in a political crisis.

There was minor opposition to the visit at the beginning. But political developments including the Kishi government's determination to have Parliament ratify the new U.S.-Japan security agreement sparked an anti-Kishi, anti-security pact, antiadministration movement that has snowballed.

* * *

Sunday, the Japanese government was reported ready to take a new tack in order to make the President's visit more acceptable to the people.

Kyodo news service said the government has decided to stress in the announcements and statements that the President will be the guest of Emperor Hirohito—not a personal guest of Kishi. Every "state guest" to Japan officially is a guest of the Emperor.

Hereafter, the news service said the plan is to emphasize the Emperor's role in the visit and play down Kishi's, in order to soften any political implications.

Castro Advises More Vacations For Cuban Labor

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro said Sunday his regime may order longer paid vacations for Cuban workers in an effort to create more jobs and solve the island's mammoth unemployment problem.

He declared the revolutionary government would not be satisfied with the Cuban economy "until every family and every citizen has within reach what was yesterday the privilege of a few."

* * *

In a two-hour speech to the commerce workers union, the bearded Prime Minister said a plan is under study that would give all workers 20 days' paid vacation every seven months.

Workers now receive a month's vacation each year and are supposed to be replaced for that period. Replacements are seldom hired, but Castro indicated the government would see that the requirement is observed under the new proposal.

* * *

Castro also predicted that 25,000 more jobs would be created by a government decree requiring employers to hire an extra worker for every five on their payrolls during the slack summer season that began this month.

Out of Cuba's work force of 2½ million, an estimated 600,000 currently are jobless.

Labor Minister Augusto Martinez Sanchez also told the union delegates that, "If qualified workers for any particular type of work can not be found, the jobs must be given to persons lacking any employment."

* * *

Both the summer work decree and the vacation plan drew cheers from the union, from whose ranks Castro draws some of the strongest support for government direction of the economy.

Obviously less cheerful were the employers. They must find the means of supporting expanded payrolls in the face of a critical economic situation which has many Cuban business firms verging on bankruptcy.

COMPACT MODEL NOW

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Roy Smith of East St. Louis, Ill., reported his 1959 model car stolen. Police found it the next day—at the bottom of a 125-foot cliff. Someone had pushed it off.

SHOWDOWN DUE FOR NEW WAGE BILLS

Compromise Moves Indicates Congress Passage

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional showdown is coming soon on proposals to boost the amount and coverage of the federal minimum wage.

Considerable compromising is taking place and the outlook now is that some type of bill will clear Congress before adjournment.

The present federal minimum is 1 $an hour and applies to about 24 million workers in firms engaged in interstate commerce.

* * *

Proposals in the House and Senate would boost the minimum to $1.25, although probably in stages over a period of years, and bring in somewhere between three and 10 million workers now exempted under the law's coverage.

The administration has proposed limiting any increases in the minimum to a "modest" raise and extending coverage to only about three million additional workers. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said he would recommend that President Eisenhower veto any increase beyond $1.15 an hour.

* * *

The law, one of the Roosevelt New Deal measures, also requires payment of time and a half for overtime worked beyond 40 hours a week.

The Fair Labor Standards Act, as the law is called, originally pegged the minimum at 25 cents an hour in 1938. This was advanced to 30 cents in 1939, 40 in 1945, 75 in 1950 and the present $1 an hour in 1956.

* * *

Organized labor is pushing for passage of new legislation this year as a major goal. Most business organizations oppose any change. The current U.S. Chamber of Commerce weekly newsletter says: "It's evident that any election-year sweetening of—minimum—wage provisions could produce only one real victor—the force of inflation."

A bill by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) was approved by a Senate Labor subcommittee many months ago. However, Kennedy has not pressed for a vote by the full Labor Committee until only recently following his return from presidential primary campaigns.

Chinese Communists Reinforce Garrisons

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Communists have reinforced their garrisons opposite Formosa in the past three days with tank units, the English-language China News said Sunday.

The implication is that the Communists may be preparing for an attack on the Nationalist-held island outposts off the China mainland. Tension has been heightened in the Formosa Straight area with the approach of President Eisenhower's June 18-19 visit to Formosa.

TAX COLLECTOR COLLECTS

When police became suspicious about a merchant moving from his store at 2 a. m. they called tax collector Albert Mac Donald. Mac Donald presented the merchant with a bill for $236 in unpaid taxes. The merchant paid on the spot.

Coordination Lack Blamed for U2 Spy Incident Troubles

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democrat and a Republican Sunday blamed America's troubles over the U2 spy plane incident on what they called a lack of coordination at top government levels.

The Republican, Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York, predicted that as a result all intelligence activities of the various agencies will be placed under one chief just below the President. This could be the secretary of state, he suggested.

* * *

The Democrat, Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington, said the U2 episode makes it clear that the president and the National Security Council, "in delegating responsibility, lack the necessary coordination of the departments and agencies."

"Otherwise," he said, "we would not have had what I think was the most devastating part—the contradictions."

* * *

Jackson said President Eisenhower, as the chief executive, must bear the responsibility. He added that the President bungled in the sense that his representatives said what they said.

"The question is whether anything should have been said," he added.

Jackson said he agreed with criticism presented before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last week that the National Security Council is unable to deal with such difficulties in a timely way because it spends too much time on "problems that have not been of major importance."

* * *

Sen. Gale W. McGee (D-Wyo) presented a view somewhat similar to that of Jackson and Javits.

"No one was minding the store when these integrated series of events transpired so suddenly," he said.

McGee added that the incident pointed up the necessity of having a chief in command at all times.

But McGee said one of the big mistakes was in Eisenhower accepting responsibility for the U2 incident.

"In espionage you don't try to dignify it with responsibility," he said because it places the government in an untenable position and embarrasses its allies.

Third Body Found After Crash of Supersonic Jet

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — The third body of the three-man civilian crew killed when their supersonic jet bomber crashed east of here during a violent thunderstorm was found Sunday.

All three floated to earth in open parachutes but high winds dragged them through the rugged terrain, battering them against the ground. One crew member was dragged for a mile then slammed into the side of a farm house. All bodies were badly crushed.

* * *

A spokesman for the Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp., which builds the 15-million-dollar craft at Fort Worth, Tex., said the B58 was carrying special equipment for tests of a classified nature. It took off from Kirtland Air Force Base at Albuquerque, N.M. at 4:10 p.m. Saturday and crashed seven minutes before its scheduled arrival in Fort Worth at 6:10 p.m.

The three crew members, all Fort Worth residents and employes of Convair, were Jack Lee Baldridge, 44, the pilot; Hugh D. Coleman, 42, the flight engineer observer; and Charles T. Jones, 32, flight test engineer.

* * *

The third body was found Sunday morning approximately seven miles south of Lorenzo. The area of the crash was approximately 40 miles east of Lubbock in the rough Caprock country which divides the high plains from the rolling ranch country to the southeast.

The bodies of Baldridge and Jones were recovered Saturday night.

An investigating team headed by Brig. Gen. Walter Arnold of Norton Air Force Base, Calif., was due in Lubbock to investigate the crash.

Pastor Robbed, Slain; Body Found in Church

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—A minister's body was found Sunday on the floor of his church. Police said it appeared he had been robbed and beaten to death.

The body of the Negro clergyman, the Rev. Thomas McKelvey was found in St. Stephen's Baptist church in West Philadelphia by Philip Bonapart who lives in an apartment over the church.

Police said the minister had been bleeding from the nose and mouth. The pockets of his trousers were turned inside out and his empty wallet was found in a pew at the rear of the church.

The body was discovered before parishioners arrived for morning services.

Man Found Hanged In Chicken Coop

ROLLO, Ill. (AP)—The body of a man who had been shot and hanged was found Sunday in a chicken coop.

Coroner Paul Van Natta said that E. P. Zueber, about 60, of Earlville, apparently looped a rope around his neck, fastened it to a rafter of the coop, then pulled a string rigged to trigger a 12-gauge shotgun held with the muzzle against his chest.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Better Health Through Knowledge

Athlete's Foot

- Brain Damage
- Sex Questions

Q. I am fifteen years old and go bowling pretty often. My parents say I can catch athlete's foot from shoes rented at the bowling alley. How can I protect myself and still go bowling?

A. The best way is to buy your own shoes. However, when renting ice skates, roller skates, bowling shoes, etc., a bland dusting powder could be sprinkled in the shoes before using or thick socks can be worn. This affords some protection.

Q. How long can the brain go without oxygen?

A. The effects of partial or complete oxygen lack on the brain can best be judged in persons who have been "brought back to life" after the heart stops beating. Apparently, the longest period of oxygen deficiency without brain damage is about four minutes.

Q. You may not be able to answer this in Medical Mirror but are there stock answers for a 6-year-old's questions about sex?

A. There are no stock answers because children aren't likely to ask stock questions. Besides, you are never sure just what prompted the question in the first place. Don't read too much into such questions, especially with young children. Remember the story about Johnny who asked where he came from? Mother got red in the face, shifted her feet and finally launched into a "scientific" discussion. The lecture was cut short when Johnny said: "That's funny, the new girl next door said she came from Minnesota." Children expect and deserve simple, direct answers. Avoid the "birds and bees" routine. Pull the "stork" story on the average first or second grader and you are very likely to find out that he knows considerably more about delivery than the wisest old bird that ever lived.

Shenkel Pastor Addresses Graduates of Roberts High School

"What will dominate your life?" the Owen J. Roberts High school graduating class of 140 was asked Sunday night.

"Will it be pleasures, self-indulgence and social climbing?" the Rev. Edward L. Schlingman, pastor oif the Shenkel United Church of Christ, asked them.

"Or will it be a life dedicated to sacrificial living," the Rev. Schlingman proposed.

The Rev. Schlingman's challenge, entitled "Essentials of Living," was the baccalaureate address for the Class of 1960 and nearly 800 guests at the High school auditorium, Bucktown.

THE REV. SCHLINGMAN'S sermon was based on four main points: a world to live in, a life to live with, a work to live for, and a Master to give myself to.

Under the first point, Rev. Schlingman compared the time of his own graduation with the present.

"Then, the atom was the smallest part of matter, and men said it could not be divided. Church was pretty much secondary with people.

"Today, sad to say, the atom is not only smashed, but an implement of fear. There are more people on church rolls than ever, but morals are at their lowest ebb in history."

In this situation, the Rev. Schlingman said, what will be a graduate's purpose in the work he or she will do? He asked the class if, as individuals, there would be a willingness to become involved with other persons in life's pursuits.

He expressed what it means to work — more than money and security — and how the church must be considered as an agency concerned with people, teaching the responsibilities that will be necessary.

He told the class it must have a work to live for because "very few people these days are content to be by themselves, because of bad consciences. Lives are devoid of anything of interest, and there seems to be nothing to do, yet there is no satisfaction in being alone."

* * *

THIS LEADS to the fourth point, the Rev. Schlingman continued. "Who is the Master I can give myself to?

"You are very much the slave to that which controls you . . . let it be sacrificial living."

He told the youth, "Commencement means to begin, while 'to graduate' means 'to end.'

"They are mutually exclusive. You people are on the threshold of life and I have spoken of some of the principles you must concern yourself with."

The Rev. D. Howard Keiper, pastor of the Coventry Church of the Brethren, delivered the invocation and scriptuer reading. The Rev. Thomas W. Bare, pastor of the Bethel Methodist church, offered the prayer, and the Rev. James H. Slapinski, pastor of the Coventryville and Nantmeal Methodist churches, gave the benediction.

* * *

THE CHOIR of St. John's Lutheran church, South Pottstown sang two anthems and Mrs. Earl J. Goodolf was organist.

The Class of 1960 is the fifth to graduate from Owen J. Roberts since the Northern Chester county jointure was formed. It was the second to conduct baccalaureate from the new school in Bucktown.

Boone Senior Class Hears Pastor at Baccalaureate

Baccalaureate was Sunday night for 61 graduates of the Daniel Boone Junior-Senior High school in the auditorium of the Roosevelt Junior High school, Birdsboro.

The Rev. Thomas B. Adams, pastor of St. Paul's United Church of Christ, Birdsboro, addressed the graduates on "Needed Vision for the Future."

The Rev. Adams took his text from Proverbs: "Where there is no vision, the people perish."

He told the graduates they must exercise vision concerning themselves as children of God.

"You must regard yourselves neither as unimportant nor as all-important," he said.

THE REV. Adams also stressed the importance of vision regarding one's self and others.

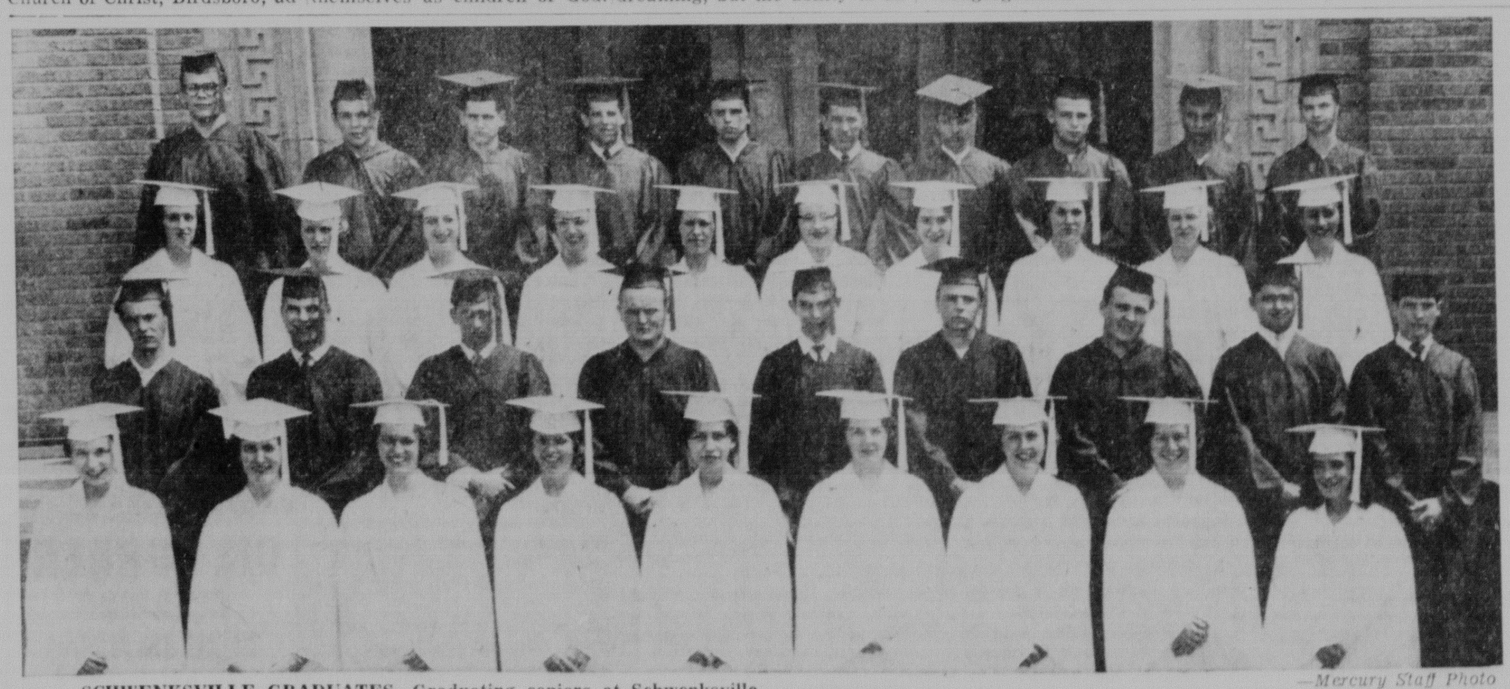

"Vision," he said, "is not daydreaming, but the ability to anticipate and make provisions for future events."

The Rev. Fred Henck, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, Birdsboro, presided and read the scripture and prayer.

The Rev. Harry Dorley, pastor of the Evangelical Congregational church, Birdsboro, gave the invocation.

The Rev. Paul Dundore, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Amityville, led the responsive reading.

Commencement services will be Wednesday at 8:15 p. m. in the auditorium.

Schwenksville High School Graduates Are Told of Life's Goals

Thirty nine graduating pupils at the Schwenksville High school Baccalaureate Sunday night were told of three qualities that should be their ultimate goal in life.

The Rev. Thomas W. Phillips, pastor of the Heidleberg Reformed church (United Church of Christ), Schwenksville, used as his topic, "Our Ultimate Concern", and spoke before an almost capacity crowd in the 500 seat auditorium in the Claude K. Kulp Elementary school.

He said one of the qualities that are essential is vision which is what we are able to see by means of understanding.

The second quality is passion —the zeal for the accomplishment of our goals. Action is the third quality which is honest activity and the use of our own talents, he said.

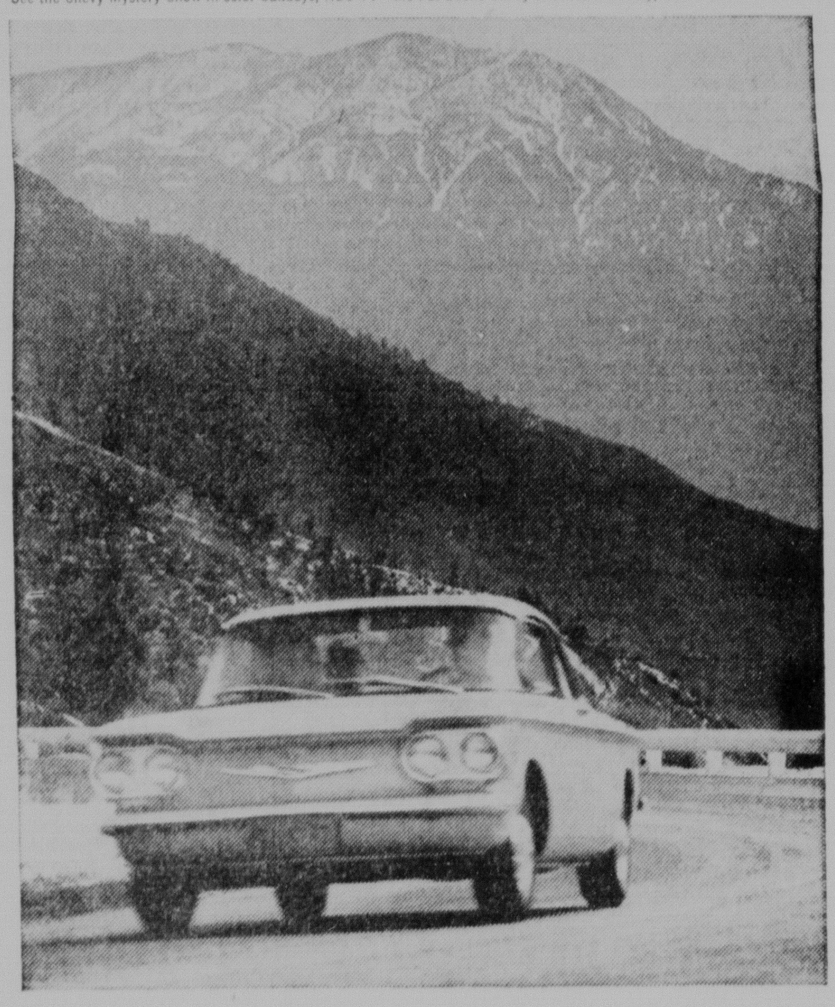

* * *

"OUR ULTIMATE concern is the future. The future of our own lives, the future of our community and nation, and the future of the universe as well," the Rev. Phillips said.

Dressed in caps and gowns of white, for the girls, and royal blue for the boys, the graduating group marched to the front of the auditorium at the beginning of the service and stood with the audience for the invocation led by the Rev. Phillips.

He won seven games this season without losing, giving up only eight hits and striking out 123.

Welter Boxer Dies In Rescue Attempt

Rudell Stitch Drowns

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Boxer Rudell Stitch, who won national acclaim two years ago after a heroic Ohio River rescue, drowned Sunday in an attempt to save a companion's life.

Stitch, 28, and Charles Oliver, 25, both of Louisville, were swept away in the churning water at the base of an Ohio River dam.

Both bodies later were recovered.

The accident happened less than 100 yards from the spot where the popular Negro boxer in 1958 rescued an Army Corps of Engineers worker who had fallen and broken his kneecap.

Stitch and Oliver had been fishing Sunday morning with Stitch's manager, Edgar (Bud) Bruner, and Bruner's 19-year-old son, from a five-foot-high shelf a foot deep in rushing water between the top of the dam and the river.

Bruner said the four were returning to shore, Stitch in the lead and Oliver following, when Oliver slipped.

"Rudell grabbed his arm," Bruner said, "and they both went over the dam."

Bruner said both men were wearing chest-high rubber waders and raincoats to protect them from the spray. "They both went down," Bruner said, "and didn't come up any more."

A witness, John C. Burns Jr., said Stitch came to the surface in calmer water several hundred feet downstream, shed his coat and waders, and swam back into the turbulence toward his friend.

Burns saw the pair struggling and swam toward them. "When I got there," he said, "all you could see was bubbles."

Stitch, the father of six, was an elder in the Hope Presbyterian Church and was active in various youth programs.

He was admired in boxing circles for his superb sportsmanship. He once lost an important bout in New York to Gaspar Ortega when he declined to take advantage of an accidental butt of his opponent's head.

Stitch had been ranked among the top 10 welterweights in the nation the past year and a half and was the third-raking contender in the latest National Boxing Assn. ratings.

His professional record was 27 victories, 13 of them by knockouts, and seven defeats.

Stitch's only defeat this year was by Ralph Dupas of New Orleans, whom he had beaten last October. In his last bout Stitch won over Stan Harrington in Honolulu, May 25.

Neeman's Three-Run HR Puts Clincher on Nightcap

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —Route-going performances by Gene Conley and Jim Owens gave the injury-riddled, last-place Philadelphia Phillies a 2-0, 4-1 doubleheader sweep over league-leading Pittsburgh Sunday and snapped the Pirates six-game winning streak.

The Pirates out-hit the Phils in both games, but Conley's effective clutch pitching in the opener kept Pittsburgh scoreless although they pecked away for 10 hits. His record now is 3-3.

Owens, now 3-5, checked the Pirates on seven hits in the nightcap, winning it when Cal Neeman homered in the seventh off reliever Jim Umbricht with two on.

Harvey Haddix (3-2) was charged with the second game defeat although he allowed only two hits—one Ted Lepcio's fifth inning homer—before he was lifted in the seventh for a pinch hitter.

Then the Phillies broke it open against Umbricht. Frank Herrera singled and Lepcio walked to set the stage for Neeman's blast.

In the opener Conley bested Pirate ace Bob Friend (6-3), who allowed five hits before he was removed in the seventh. Despite giving up 10 hits, Conley was superb with men on base. He didn't permit one Pirate runner to get beyond second base.

The Phillies scored in the first inning when Bobby DelGreco singled, went to third on a single by Tony Taylor and came home on Tony Curry's infield ground out.

In the sixth inning, Curry scored the other run by getting on base through a force out, moving to third on Harry Anderson's single and coming home on Ken Walter's perfect squeeze bunt.

Curry had not been expected to play for the Phillies. On Friday night he had collided with Joe Koppe as they both sought to catch a fly ball. He was carried off the field on a stretcher and it was thought at first that he was the more seriously injured of the two.

But at the hospital it was discovered that he had suffered only chest bruises. Koppe's right wrist was fractured and a forearm bone was chipped. He is expected to be out at least six weeks.

Chisox Take Pair of 2-0 Victories Over A's on Kemmerer, Baumann Jobs

CHICAGO (AP) — Right-hander Russ Kemmerer and southpaw Frank Baumann, a couple of castoffs from second division clubs, pumped new life into the Chicago White Sox sagging pitching staff by hurling a pair of 2-0 victories over Kansas City Sunday.

Kemmerer, picked up from Washington in a straight cash deal less than a month ago, came through with a smart three-hitter in the first game and Baumann, acquired from Boston in a trade for first baseman Ron Jackson, limited the A's to seven hits in the nightcap.

The Sox have won only six of their last 12 games and Kemmerer and Baumann have been responsible for four of the triumphs.

Kemmerer, picking up his second victory since joining the Sox and his third of the season, gained his second shutout in the majors. His first came six years ago when he was a rookie with Boston.

Chicago handed Dick Hall his second loss against five victories in the opener when Gene Freese doubled in the fourth, moved to third on an infield out and scored on Luis Aparicio's bunt single. Minnie Minoso's seventh homer added insurance in the sixth inning.

ORIOLES EDGE NATS, 6-5 IN NINTH INNING

Ramos Ejected, Senators Play Contest Under Protest

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles converted two walks, a weak single and a Washington error into two ninth inning runs Sunday to nose out the Senators 6-5 and tighten their grip on the American League lead.

The Senators played under protest from the fourth inning when their starting pitcher Pedro Ramos was ejected for kicking the dirt after an argument with Umpire Bill McKinley.

The Orioles, protesting that Ramos was throwing the illegal spitball, had called for McKinley to examine the ball on four different occasions. The fourth time, Ramos and McKinley exchanged angry words and Ramos was chased.

Ramos claimed he was throwing an effective palm ball and Manager Cookie Lavagetto said he was protesting the ejection.

The Senators, trailing most of the game, moved in front 5-4 in the last of the eighth when pinch hitter Lenny Green punched a bases-loaded single to center off Hal Brown, who finally wound up as the winning pitcher.

In the top of the ninth, Washington's fifth pitcher, Truman Clevenger, retired leadoff hitter Brooks Robinson but then walked Willie Tasby and pinch hitter Al Pilarcik. Marv Breeding stuck out his bat and poked a Texas League single to center.

Green charged the ball and fired toward third in an effort to force Tasby, who had hesitated on the blooper. The throw sailed over third baseman Harmon Killebrew's head, bounced into the box seats and the two deciding runs crossed the plate.

Steelers Draft James From San Francisco 11

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers have drafted 250-pound center Dan James from the San Francisco 49ers for a high draft choice.

James, co-captain at Ohio State in 1958, came to the Steelers Sunday. He was drafted by the 49ers last year but didn't play.

The Steelers also signed halfback Buddy Dial of Rice and end Darrell Brewster.

KEEN BESTS MEL FEICK IN MOUND DUEL

Defending Champion Bears Drop Opener In Berks Legion Play

The defending champions dropped a 2-1 decision to Shillington's Blue Sox as rain brought a quick halt to a sterling pitching duel after seven innings.

Sox righthander Jim Keen and Mel Feick kept base hits at a minimum in their horn-locking argument. Shillington collected just three off Feick while the Bears managed four off Keen.

Single runs in the first and second innings provided Keen with his margin of victory.

* * *

IN FACT, the Sox slabsman helped his own cause immensely with a sacrifice fly in the second which enabled Marty Weiser to score.

The Bears tallied their lone marker in the fourth. Jim Blum, the only two-hit producer of the afternoon, singled to left and moved to second as Dick Kauffman grounded out pitcher to first.

Except for that unearned tally, the Bears could do little against Keen, who struck out seven and walked but three.

Feick, also a righthander, was air-tight after his shaky start. He also whiffed seven but allowed five free passes.

The Bears and Blue Sox were originally scheduled to lift the campaign lid at Gabelsville Saturday but rain forced postponement of the first game of the weekend series.

Memphis Tourney Ends In Tie for 1st, Playoff Set

MEMPHIS, (AP) — Ben Hogan, Gene Littler and Tommy Bolt wound up tied in the $30,000 Memphis open Sunday, throwing the golf tournament into an 18-hole playoff today.

A sudden death playoff originally was scheduled but tournament officials changed their minds after learning that Bolt's wife had undergone surgery in a hospital here this afternoon.

The three pros fired pressure-packed sub-par rounds to overhaul the front runners on the 6500-yard, 34-36—70 Colonial Country club course.

Hogan, the Fort Worth hawk, came up with a 33-35—68, to finish at 273. Bolt, of Crystal River, Fla., fired a 33-34—67. Littler had the best round—32-32—64.

* * *

THE HAWK, the gallery favorite, brought a delighted roar from the crowd with a clutch birdie on the 18th hole. He also birdied the seventh and parred the rest. He was two strokes off the pace when the round started.

San Diego's Littler, a slender mechanical man on the course, made six birdies. His drives and irons were boldly precise. He used 30 putts — good but not remarkable. However, four of his birds came on long putts ranging from 10 to 18 feet.

The two leaders at the start of this fourth round wound up in fourth place. J. C. Goosie of Knoxville, Tenn., missed his birdie putt on the 18th to finish with 274. Baltimore's Bill Collins also missed a birdie putt on 18.

McAndrews, Dilworth Win Hatfield Events

HATFIELD — Tommy McAndrews of Allentown won the 20-lap feature race for the modifieds here Saturday night, and George Dilworth, Lansdale, took the 20-lap co-feature for the strictly stocks.

George Sleight, Easton; Harry Moore, Pottstown, Dick Havens, New Hope, and Del Bitting, Pottstown, followed McAndrews to the flag.

Bill Moore, Hatfield, was second in the feature for the strictly stocks, with George Rounsaville, Doylestown third; Bob Wilkie, Pottstown, fourth, and Bill Buhrle, Lansdale, fourth.

All Hands On Deck

It seems everybody has a hand in Detroit's first big outdoor fight card in a decade. Scheduled for the University of Detroit stadium June 28, it will feature Henry Hanks (second from right) against Victor Zalazar in one of three tens. Having a hand in it are (from left) Floyd Stevens, chairman of the boxing commission; Max Handler, co-ordinator of the fight; Hanks and Louis Miriani, Detroit's mayor.

Ward Sets New Record In Milwaukee Win; Thomson Leads First 77 Miles

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Johnny Thomson, the Flying Scot from Boyertown, Pa., ran into mechanical trouble again Sunday, as Roger Ward of Indianapolis won the 100-mile race for big cars at the Wisconsin Fairgrounds.

Ward set a new record of 99.44 mph for the event, finishing ahead of a pressing A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex. Ward was clocked in one hour, 19.38 seconds, breaking the mark set in 1956 by Pat Flaherty of Chicago, who averaged 98.96.

Thomson, who was a winner here last year, took the lead at the start and held it for 77 laps, when his car developed clutch trouble.

Ward and Foyt both passed the laboring Thomson on the 78th lap, and on the 81st lap Ward went out in front to stay Thomson was forced out after 80 miles.

IT MARKED the second time on the championship circuit this year that the Flying Scot was forced to pit while holding the lead. He left a 100-miler at Trenton, N. J., after 20 laps earlier this year.

Len Sutton of Portland, Ore., was third and Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., fourth.

Ward collected about $7000 from the purse of $25,350 contributed by a crowd of 26,527.

Others in the first 10 finishers:

Area Drivers Cop Honors In Hill Climb Test

READING — Dave Elliott, Sanatoga, pushed his Saab up Duryea Drive to Mt. Penn in 192.37 seconds Sunday to win top honors in the continental touring class at the 10th annual hill climb held here by the Eastern Pennsylvania Sprots Car club.

Roy Keiser, Royersford, Saturday took the honors in the H production class with an Austin Healy Sprite, making the run up the "mountain" in 196.32 seconds.

Keiser's wife Toni finished sixth in the same class — against men drivers, and wound up with the second best rating in the two—day meet among all women drivers.

Dr. H. C. Baumann, 701 High street, was fourth among the drivers in his class. Other Pottstonians and their finishing marks were:

Robert Hoffman, 14th in E production with a Triumph TR 3 and Carl Hoffman, Pottstown RD 3, ninth in a continental touring class with a Vespa.

Cardinal Victory Keeps Giants In Second Place

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ex-Giant Bill White led off two rallies with doubles Sunday as the St. Louis Cardinals whipped error-plagued San Francisco 9-4.

First baseman White collected four of the Cardinals' 17 hits. He banged his two-base blows to lead off a four-run sixth inning and a three-run seventh. Then he singled to open a two-run eighth after his club led 7-4.

The Cardinals, collecting the most hits for a visiting team in Candlestick Park, kept the Giants a full game behind National League-leading Pittsburgh which dropped a pair to Philadelphia.

Reliever Stu Miller, third of five Giant hurlers, gave up three straight hits in the seventh to absorb his second defeat against two victories. Lindy McDaniel, who came on in the sixth, won his third against two setbacks.

A crowd of 30,528 saw the Cardinals break even in their four-game series, aided by five San Francisco errors.

White's double in the seventh plus singles by Ken Boyer, Carl Sawatski and Curt Flood put the Cards ahead to stay.

Four runs by St. Louis and a pair by San Francisco in the sixth sent the game into the seventh deadlocked at 4-4 with neither starting pitcher still around.

The Cards knocked out Sam Jones in the sixth as they tallied four runs on five hits and a costly double error by shortstop Eddie Bressoud.

The Giants tied it in the bottom of the frame, also aided by an error. They sent 19-year-old southpaw Ray Sadecki to the showers.

San Francisco scored first in the third as Joe Amalfitano singled home Bressoud. Orlando Cepeda crashed his 10th homer of the year, a 350-foot blast over the left field fence.

In the Cardinals' sixth, White doubled to left. Sawatski singled him home. After the second out, Flood laid down a perfect bunt, reaching first and scoring run No. 2. Sadecki singled in the third run and Julian Javier the fourth.

Billy O'Dell replaced Jones and threw out Joe Cunningham.

In the Giants' sixth, with one out, Willie Kirkland reached first on Javier's throwing error. Bressoud doubled him home and scored on pinch hitter Andre Rodger's triple.

McDaniel came in to retire Don Blasingame and the side.

TIGERS SPLIT DOUBLEHEADER WITH INDIANS

Locke's 6-Hit Shutout Gains 9-0 Tribe Victory

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pitcher Bobby Locke, acquired by Cleveland three days ago, tossed a six hit shutout in his first start of the season Sunday as the Cleveland Indians trounced Detroit 9-0 in the second game of a doubleheader.

The Tigers won the opener 7-2 on the six-hit pitching of Jim Bunning, coupled with homers by Rocky Colavito and Steve Bilko.

Locke, 26, recalled Thursday from Indianapolis, limied Detroit to six hits and allowed only two runners to reach third base. He walked two and struck out four.

Jim Piersall hit his seventh home run of the season and Hank Foiles—also acquired last week—got his first for the Tribe.

The shutout was capped by a five-run rally in the eighth inning.

In the first game, 28-year-old Jim Bunning went the distance, scattering six hits and striking out four batters. The victory was his second against three losses.

Rocky Colavito, a former Indian, accounted for three of Detroit's seven runs in the opener. He contributed his seventh four-bagger of the season along with a double and a single in four times at bat.

Steve Bilko also homered in the Tiger's 12-hit assault against three Cleveland pitchers.

The loser was Gary Bell, relieved in the sixth by Wynn Hawkins. It was Bell's fourth loss against five victories.

Braves Rally for 4-1 Nightcap Win After Redlegs Capture Opener, 3-2

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves, frustrated in the clutch in a 3-2 first game defeat broke loose for three runs in the eighth inning to beat the Cincinnati Reds 4-1 in the nightcaup and gain an even break in a doubleheader Sunday.

After being held to three hits for seven innings by Joe Nuxhall, the Braves put together two doubles and three singles, including two safe bunts, for their winning rally.

Warren Spahn, who shut out the Reds on one single in 4 2-3 innings of relief pitching, got credit for his fourth victory and the 271st of his career.

The 1-1 tie that existed until the eighth was created in the first two innings. The Braves scored off Nuxhall in the first on Bill Bruton's double, an out and a sacrifice fly. The Reds scored off Joey Jay in the second on singles by Frank Robinson and Roy McMillan, Robinson's stolen base and Nuxhall's sacrifice fly.

Spahn rescued Jay in the fifth and got out of a jam by retiring Jerry Lynch and Gus Bell with runners on first and third.

Then in the eighth, Felix Mantilla and Henry Aaron doubled, Eddie Mathews and Joe Adcock beat out bunts, Johnny Logan singled and Nuxhall contributed a throwing error to give the Braves their three decisive runs.

Juan Pizarro held the Reds to five hits in the first game, but home runs by Billy Martin, Roy McMillan and Vada Pinson were enough to beat him.

The Braves nicked winner Bob Purkey for nine hits and had numerous chances to score, yet their only earned run was Wes Covington's homer in the fourth. An error by McMillan in the third, coupled with singles by Bruton and Red Schoendienst, gave them their other tally.

When Charlie Lau led off the ninth with a double, Bill Henry came in and retired the next three batters to save Purkey's fourth victory.

Florida Cyclist Wins Williams Grove Event

Murguia covered the half-mile oval in 5:1.19, finishing 25 yards ahead of Don McHugh of Ontario, Can. Some 3,000 fans saw the race.

Behind McHugh in order are: Walt Smith, Baltimore, Md.; Harvey Smith, Wernersville, Pa.; Paul Lassiter, Richmond, Va.; Jules Varanyak, Trenton N. J., Ken Dyke, Riverton, Va., and Sandy Freeman, Toronto, Can.

YANKS SWEEP DOUBLEHEADER FROM BOSTON

Mantle, Maris Pace Offense In 5-4, 8-3 Wins

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees swept a doubleheader from Boston 5-4 and 8-3 Sunday on the home run hitting of Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris and the air-tight pitching of reliever Bobby Shantz and starter Art Ditmar.

Shantz turned in a brilliant rescue job in the opener after Yankee starter Ralph Terry had blown all but one run of a early 5-0 lead built up mainly by Mantle's eighth homer of the year and Maris' 14th, with two on.

The Red Sox got all their runs in the seventh, the last two coming on Ted Williams' home run with a man on base. Shantz took over and fanned Vic Wertz.

The little left-hander struck out two more batters after Frank Malzone had doubled with one out in the eighth but it was in the ninth that he really thrilled the Yankee Stadium crowd of 37,211.

Pumpsie Green led off with a double and moved to third on Marty Keough's safe bunt. Shantz fanned league-leading hitter Pete Runnels, issued an intentional pass to Williams after Keough had stolen second and induced the dangerous Wertz to ground into a game-ending doubleplay.

Ditmar hurled a six-hitter in the nightcap, going the distance to seven his season record at 3-3. The Yankees sewed up the game in the first inning, cashing in on Ted Bowsfield's wildness to score four runs.

After Hec Lopez got the first of his three singles in the nightcap—he also got three singles in the opener—and Maris followed with another single, the Red Sox southpaw handed out four free passes to present the Yankees with three runs. Cletis Boyer drove in the other with a sacrifice fly.

With Tom Sturdivant on the mound, the Yankees scored three more in the fourth on singles by Lopez, Maris and Bill Skowron and a triple by Tony Kubek.

Runnels was the only Red Sox player to have any success against Ditmar. He tripled in the fourth and doubled in the sixth. The veteran infielder also collected three hits in the opener and now is batting .378.

Tom Brewer was the Red Sox starter and loser in the opener. He was tagged for a dozen hits and all Yankee runs.

Mantle lined his first pitch in the second inning into the lower right field stands. Singles by Lopez and Yogi Berra preceeded Maris' big blow in the fifth. Kubek's single in the sixth drove in Bobby Richardson, who had doubled, with what proved to be the decisive run.

Terry was credited with the victory, his third against two defeats.

Cubs Whip Los Angeles On 7-Run Spree In 6th

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Chicago Cubs whipped up a seven-run rally with five singles, five walks and a balk in the sixth inning Sunday and clobbered the Los Angeles Dodgers 12-8.

Chicago's Frank Thomas got one run batted in when he walked with the bases loaded in the sixth and picked up two more later by hitting his 10th and 11th homers.

The Dodgers got only six hits—including homers by Frank Howard, Charlie Neal and Wally Moon—off Mark Freeman and his two successors, Glen Hobbie and Don Elston.

The Cubs took the series, 3-1.

Chicago, trailing 3-0 after five innings, sent 13 men to bat in the sixth. Richie Ashburn contributed two singles to the rally and Earl Averill, ex-Dodger Don Zimmer and Hobbie got one apiece. Dodger starter Sandy Koufax, who gave up two singles and three walks in the inning, suffered his seventh loss in eight decisions.

Ed Rakow, the third Dodger pitcher in the inning, forced in a run when he committed a balk with the bases loaded.

Hobbie, who gave up two runs in the 1 2-3 innings he worked after relieving Freeman in the fifth, got the victory. He is 5-6.

Averill and Zimmer, who came in as pinch hitters in the sixth, each got three hits and drove in two runs.

The Dodgers took a 2-0 lead in the second when Howard sliced his homer over the right field fence with Duke Snider aboard. Neal hit his homer with the bases empty in the sixth. Moon got his with Jim Gilliam on base in the ninth.

Local Drivers Gain Wins In Water Gap Races

DELAWARE WATER GAP, Pa., (AP)—A father and son posted victories Sunday at the Delware Water outboard regatta.

The family winners were Ed Wulf, who took the A stock hydroplane title, and his son, Russell, 13, who captured the JU class. They live in Amityville, N. Y.

Other winners Sunday were Bill Kennedy, of Long Island, N. Y., in the 36 class; John Schedel, the DU and BU classes and, Roger Hoffman, York, the AU class.

The regatta lasted two days, but there was no point scoring to determine the over-all winners in each class.

* * *

RUSSELL WULF, Schedel and three others finished first both days. The three were Bob Okner, Lake Mohawk, N. J., D stock hydroplane; Charles Pieper, Chatham, N. J., C stock hydroplane; and Bob Todd, Schenectady, N. Y., B stock hydroplane.

Two area outboard drivers were winners in opening day races Saturday.

Yost also finished third in the B division won by John DiFebo, Wilmington, Del.

McCoy Captures Fonder Event on Hatfield Track

HATFIELD—Ernie McCoy of Reading took the lead at the start and won the 28-lap George Fonder Memorial trophy midget race on the Hatfield speedway Sunday night.

McCoy, who had earlier won the third qualifying heat and the match race between the heat winners, was followed to the flag by Len Duncan, Flourtown, and Bill Randall, North Reading, Mass.

The race was run in honor of George Fonder, an Eastern favorite, who was fatally injured in a crash with Van Johnson on the Hatfield oval June 14, 1958.

Other finishers were Red Riegel, Reading; Gig Stephens, New Britain, Conn., and Al Herman, sixth.

The race was shortened to 28 laps.

The race was called complete at 28 laps when Dutch Schaefer, Floral Park, N. Y., and Jiggs Peters, North Plainfield, N. J., spun out. There were no accidents however.

Heat winners were Randall, first; Peters, second, and McCoy.

Saturday Night

Dodgers Trounce Chicubs 12-6 on Big 7th Inning

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers exploded for eight runs in the seventh inning Saturday night, and went on to defeat the Chicago Cubs, 12-6 before 31,011 fans at Memorial Coliseum.

The Dodgers uprising came at the expense of Seth Morehead, fifth Chicago pitcher, who was treated roughly by the Dodgers.

The lefthanded reliever was tagged for nine hits and seven runs in one and two-thirds innings as he suffered his third loss without a win.

Ed Roebuck, third Los Angeles pitcher, took the victory, his third in four decisions. He slammed the door on the Cubs with only one run in the last five innings of the sloppily played affair.

Heavy Downpour Delays Oley Fire Zone Parade

Despite a heavy downpour of rain delaying the 31st annual parade of Oley Fire zones 5 and 6, many persons lined the Main street in Oley on Saturday afternoon.

A total of 15 fire companies and two high school bands participated in the parade which was followed by the housing of a new 11,000-gallon tank truck by the Oley Fire company.

Participants in the parade included the Boyertown Area High school band and marching unit; Liberty Fire company, New Berlinville; Friendship Hook and Ladder company; Boyertown; Keystone Fire company, Boyertown; Gibralter Fire company; Russcombmanor Fire company; Monarch Fire company, Monocacy; Reiffton Fire company.

Oley Valley Area High school band and color guard; Oley Fire company; Stonersville Fire company; Goodwill Fire company, Bally; Keystone Fire company, Bechtelsville; Shanesville Fire company; Union Fire company, Kulptown; Alsace Manor Fire company; Community Volunteer Fire company, Lower Alsace Mt. Penn Fire company, and the Friendship Fire company, Birdsboro.

Howard D. Adams, president of the Berks County Firemen's association, was the principal speaker at the housing ceremony. Charles A. Newcomet, fire zone treasurer and financial secretary of the county association, introduced Adams. Members of the Leesport Fire company assisted with the housing.

Will Is Appraised

The inventory and appraisement of the personal property of Eugene V. Barthmaier, Hereford township, filed at the office of Register Carl H. Savage in Berks county court, showed a valuation of $137,368.36.

Man's Wrong Turn Results in Crashes

A Pottstown man rammed his car into three parked autos Saturday evening when he turned the wrong way into a one-way street.

Police said a car driven by John W. Brown, 803 Sheridan street, struck parked autos owned by George A. Griffiths, 506 Beech street; Lawrence Weasner, Boyertown RD 2 and Sophie Wade, 450 Beech street. All three cars were parked on Washington street near Beech street.

Brown will be sent a summons for driving the wrong way on a one-way street, police said.

Patrolman Robert Corrigan investigated.

Passenger Injured

A man was injured Saturday night at 9:30 o'clock in a two-car accident at the corner of High street and Firestone drive.

Michael Mohr, 32 West Fourth street, was treated at Memorial hospital for chest bruises and released. He was a passenger in a car driven by A. Randolph Mohr of the same address.

According to police, The Mohr car was struck in the rear by one driven by Marjorie T. Keim, 602 Apple street.

Motor Patrolman Daniel Kegel investigated.

Sen. Goldwater Not Running for Vice President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz), a conservative who thinks he may be four years ahead of his time, said Sunday he isn't really running for vice president.

"Some of my friends have been boosting me for the vice-presidential nomination," he said in an interview. "They're doing it on their own volition. I'm better off where I am, in the Senate, even if I could get the nomination, which I can't."

Goldwater, an ordinarily mild-mannered man who can turn fire-eater when he mounts a platform, has become something of a rallying point for Republican conservatives who are dead set against their party's going liberal.

Oil Stock Salesman Remains in Prison

Charles E. Walters, the self-styled "oil man" who was arrested in Boyertown May 26, continues to await the outcome of efforts by Ohio authorities to have him extradited.

Walters was reported "doing just fine" at Montgomery county prison Sunday night.

Harold Spencer, county district attorney, said he has received written requests from officials in Ohio asking that the 72 year old Walters be returned to that state to stand trial for selling fraudulent oil stocks. But, Spencer said, no definite action has yet been taken on the case.

2 Pottstown Churches Will Alter Schedules

Two Pottstown churches will alter their schedule of services for the Summer.

The churches are Christ Episcopal church, 316 High street, and Zion's United church of Christ, Hanover and Chestnut streets.

The Rev. George A. Lineker, rector of Christ Episcopal church, reported Sunday that the 11 a. m. services will be cancelled until the Fall.

The Rev. Howard A. Kosman, pastor of Zion's, reported an early morning service will be added to the regular schedule on Sunday. The services will begin at 8:30 a. m.

Youths Reprimanded For Causing Disturbance

Six teen-agers were reprimanded by Police Chief Harold Hahn at a meeting in borough hall Saturday morning and released in their parents' custody.

The youths were picked up by police Friday afternoon for creating a disturbance at Penn and Chestnut streets.

They were: Barry Miller, 17, of 335 Spring street, Royersford; Richard Wisneski, 16, of 886 South street; David Richards, 16, of 179 Sunrise lane; John O'Flaherty, 16, of 1171 Mulberry street; Nick Cimino, 16, of 414 South street and John Katona, 16, of 250 Prospect street.

Burglar Takes Camera, Cash From Amity Home

A burglar broke into the Amity township home of Charles Beckett early Saturday morning and escaped with a camera, $50 in cash and an unsigned check.

Township Police Chief Howard Hemming said entrance was gained through an unlocked window on the west side of the house, which is located along Route 422 near Baumstown.

Mother, Son Injured When Car Hits Bridge

A Spring City mother and son were injured Saturday when their car struck a bridge abutment at the foot of Main street in Spring City.

Admitted to Memorial hospital were Mrs. Jesse Ehrhart, 216 Chestnut street, and her son, Joseph, 2. Both were in satisfactory condition Sunday night.

Mrs. Ehrhart suffered cuts of the neck, lips and chin. Her son is being held for observation of a head injury.

FA 3-3000 is the number for news tips.

Thomas Church, Former Molder, Dies at Age 73

Thomas F. Church, 73, husband of Daisy (Reider) Church, Douglassville RD 1, died Saturday at his home.

He was born in Monocacy, a son of the late L. Thomas and Mary E. (Millard) Church.

For 12 years he served as a director of the Union township school board, and was active in the Monarch Fire company. Until his retirement eight years ago, he worked as a molder at Birdsboro corporation.
